FIRST LOVE OVERCOMES SECOND INFATUATION

It Is the Principal Cause of Suit Brought by Wife No. 2 for Separation.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.

Love for the wife from whom he was divorced has turned the affection of John G. Underhill, a wealthy real estate dealer, from his second wife, whom he married last June, four days after the court had given its decree. The second wife is now suing him for separation on the ground of desertion, saying he has left her without cause.

In one of her letters, which was quoted today in the supreme court in a motion for alimony, she used the expression:

"If the love you bear for me should ever wane, if mine should ever weary you, if any other should ever come between us, I want you to be honest and tell me, even if it tear my heart. I do not want to live one hour in a fool's paradise."

Remembering these words, Mr. Underhill wrote to the author of them that the love of the first wife and his sons is still an obstacle in the path of happiness with her.

NICARAGUA MAY GET IT AFTER ALL

ENVOY CONCHA HOLDS UP REPLY

State Department Decides to Appeal to His Government Over His Head.

NO MONOPOLY IN ROUTE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
601 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.

President Roosevelt, in whom congress has placed power almost without limit to select the route for an isthmian canal, will not allow quibbling on the part of Colombia to postpone this great American enterprise. Should delay in the negotiations for control of a canal strip by the Panama route go beyond reasonable bounds, the president will make use of the power given him by congress to begin dealings for the Nicaragua route.

The status of the Panama canal negotiations is that both sides here are awaiting a decision of the Colombian government as to whether Minister Concha shall proceed under his original instructions to present to the state department the Colombian response to the department's proposal to a treaty.

When the response arrived in Washington two days ago the minister promptly notified the state department of the fact, but he added to his notice the statement that, in view of recent developments (meaning events that had happened on the isthmus since the note started from Bogota on September 16), he had regarded it as his duty to withhold it until he heard further from his government. Among these developments were the acts of United States naval officers in controlling traffic on the Panama railroad.

Appeal Over Minister's Head.

Now, as the state department had in some way come to know that the Colombian response would, if submitted, go far toward meeting the desires of this government, this delay was very annoying, but as the minister had his own notion of duty in the matter, it was decided that an appeal should be taken over his head to the authorities to Bogota.

Accordingly, a cable dispatch was sent to United States Minister Hart at the Colombian capital, notifying him of the withholding of the communication. No specific complaint was made, but it was desired to make sure that the Colombian government knew that the note had been held back, and that it approved of the minister's action.

There are two ways open even in case of an adverse attitude on the part of Colombia. Either the United States government may proceed without delay to complete the treaties with Nicaragua and Costa Rica necessary for the construction of a canal in those countries, or—and this latter course would be adopted with reluctance—the government may purchase outright the franchise of the French Panama Canal Company and go on resolutely with the construction of the Panama canal, taking the ground that it has a right to improve its own property without reference to any other government, and taking no further notice of Colombia.

Legal Right to Choose Nicaragua.

The administration takes the view that Colombia has no monopoly in canal routes, in spite of the report of Attorney General Knox, that the Panama title is valid. The reading of the act providing for the "construction of a canal connecting the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans," makes this very clear. By this act the president is authorized to acquire control of the Panama canal strip from Colombia "upon such terms as he may deem reasonable," but should he be unable to obtain this control "within reasonable time and upon reasonable terms," he is then empowered to negotiate for territory necessary for the building of a canal with Costa Rica and Nicaragua.

The question of reasonableness and unreasonableness of terms and time is for the president to decide. He takes the ground, however, that congress, which had the original power to authorize the construction of a canal, indicated a preference for a Panama canal, and he considers it his duty, if possible, to prosecute and complete negotiations along this line.

MORE HARD FIGHTING DOWN IN VENEZUELA

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILLEMSTAD, CURACAO, Oct. 29.—Carupano, Venesuela, was attacked by revolutionary forces Sunday and Monday of this week. After a hard fight with the government soldiers, in which the rebels lost one cannon and had a number of men killed and wounded, they retreated.

The government gunboat Zamora left Maracaibo this morning with 1,000 soldiers, bound for La Guayra. These troops are to reinforce President Castro, who is still inactive at La Victoria. The position of President Castro is the same as it was after the recent indecisive battle.

The revolutionists have returned to the vicinity of La Victoria in large numbers. They say they are awaiting the arrival of all their forces to attack Castro. Last Sunday Castro twice tried to dislodge the revolutionists without result.

IMITATION HANGING PROVES REAL THING

OXFORD, MISS., Oct. 29.—Emmanuel Crump, a 14-year-old negro, who had witnessed the recent hanging of Mathis and Lester, secured a plow line, hung it over a tree limb and arranged a noose for a mock hanging of himself. He stood on a milk jar and placed his head in the noose. He accidentally knocked the jar away. When found he was dead.

TEMPLARS OUT IN BRAVE ARRAY

BANQUET A CLIMAX

Not often in the history of Knights Templarism in Pittsburgh has there been such an event as was witnessed yesterday afternoon in Schenley park by 2,000 people. The division review is an annual event, but had not taken place in this vicinity since '97. The performance yesterday was deserving of praise. The raw weather was responsible for the rather small crowd.

Tancred and Pittsburgh commanderies marched down from the Seventh Avenue hotel to Union station, where a special train took them to Shadyside station. The other commanderies went to the park on the street cars shortly after 1 o'clock.

The time for reviewing was set for 4 o'clock and the Templars and spectators had a chilly two hours' wait. The wind was so strong that Tancred commandery's tent was blown down. Coffee and light lunches were served to the Knights and their guests.

Right Eminent Commander Bartlett and staff arrived in carriages shortly before 4 o'clock and immediately the bugles sounded "assembly."

The division line was split in two, the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Duquesne commanderies marching from the tents to the reviewing field by way of the eastern entrance, and Ascalon, Chartiers, Washington and McKean entering the field at the western entrance. The seven bands were consolidated and played under the direction of Charles Gaston, leader of the Allegheny Knights Templar band.

The 650 uniformed Knights with their white plumes, colored baldricks and swords at attention, presented a pretty appearance and the spectators cheered again and again. The entire division, marching as commanderies, filed past Grand Division Commander Diehl and staff, saluting as the reviewing stand was passed. Right Eminent Commander Bartlett and staff sat in carriages on the race track and witnessed the review. The commanderies were then reviewed separately. Duquesne was complimented for its perfect alignment and generally excellent appearance.

The inspection drill was finished shortly before 5 o'clock and the line was then marched to the reviewing stand, opposite the Phipps conservatories, where the division passed in review before Right Eminent Grand Commander Bartlett and his staff. Following this review, the line marched to the Hotel Schenley, where ranks were broken. Right Eminent Grand Commander Bartlett expressed himself as being highly pleased with the appearance of the Knights.

The commanderies of the Second division last night gave a banquet at the Schenley to the grand commanders of the various commanderies. Right Eminent Grand Commander Bartlett was the guest of honor. About 200 were present.

ROBBERS TIE MARSHAL WHILE THEY LOOT BANK

Then Fix Him So He Will Hang Himself If He Tries to Give Alarm.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

GARDNER, ILL., Oct. 29.—Six men blew open the vault of the Exchange National bank early this morning with dynamite and took $5,000 or $4,000. They tied Town Marshal Edmondson, took him to the bank and sat him in a chair.

After leaving the bank they took the marshal to the school house, tied a rope around his neck and fastened him to a chair at the head of a stairway, so that if he struggled he would fall down stairs and hang himself.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The vault of the private bank of Charles K. Knapp at Sodus was broken into with dynamite early today and a sum believed to be $5,000 was secured.

More Troops Withdrawn.

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 29.—The whole Eighth regiment, stationed at Duryea and Parsons, and the two companies of the Fourth, stationed at Nanticoke, have been recalled. They will leave for home tomorrow.

CONFESSES TO MURDER OF ALBERT C. LATIMER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A young man who described himself as William G. Johnson, of 461 North Eighth street, Philadelphia, entered the Green Point police station tonight and said that he desired to surrender himself as the murderer of Albert C. Latimer, who was shot, apparently by a burglar, in his home in Hancock street, Brooklyn, on the night of July 2 last.

The man said that he surrendered because he was stricken with remorse and was weary of wandering about the country.

He was locked up and will be arraigned tomorrow morning.

LAURA BIGGAR WILL SURRENDER TODAY

Declares She Is Penniless and Is Tired of Appearing to Be a Fugitive.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.

Laura Biggar will go to Freehold, N. J., tomorrow and surrender herself to answer to the charge of conspiracy preferred by the other heirs to the Bennett estate. She expects to be released on bail at once, as her lawyer believes he has obtained a freeholder who will qualify in the sum of $20,000. Even if she does not procure bail, she said tonight she is ready to go to jail for a year, if need be, to bring to light all the facts in the case.

"I am penniless," Miss Biggar said. "The tenants of the property Mr. Bennett left me have been instructed by Mr. Hawkins, one of the executors of Mr. Bennett's will, not to pay any rent to me, and as they do not know to whom else they should go, they have not paid any rent at all. Several have moved away.

"I was to have been paid $1,000 10 days after the probating of Mr. Bennett's will. Of course, this has not been given to me. Since Mr. Bennett died I have not had any income. I have two excellent offers from theatrical managers, but I have shrunk from appearing in public, no matter how bad my needs. Besides, I have been too ill to do anything at all, but I may be forced to go back to the stage for a livelihood until this case is tried and I get what is mine by right.

"I have been hounded long enough now. I am ready to face the people who misrepresented almost everything in connection with this affair. They have used the most underhand means to accomplish their purpose, but they cannot down me utterly.

"I have wanted all along to go to Freehold, but have been advised not to do so. I am tired of appearing to be a fugitive, and I am prepared to undergo hardships in order to triumph in the end."

FAST TRAIN WRECKED.

Cars Are Burned and Passengers and Trainmen Have Remarkable Escapes.

LANCASTER, PA., Oct. 29.—Passengers on the Harrisburg express, leaving this city at 7:15 o'clock this evening, faced a catastrophe and escaped with a violent shaking.

The express was running 40 miles an hour when it crashed into the rear of a freight train at Dillersville. The engine of the express plowed far into the last car of the freight, which was empty.

The violence of the compact shattered the windows of the passenger coaches and hurled the passengers from their seats. The escape of the engineer, Harry K. Thomas, and his fireman, C. H. Downes of Harrisburg, was remarkable. By the roof of the freight car they were knocked down against their fire box, but managed to crawl out of the wreck, slightly scalded and bruised. The express engine and three freight cars caught fire and were consumed.

BROWN HEADS LIST.

Pays High Price for Horse at Sale of Belle Meade Stud.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Oct. 29.—Capt. S. S. Brown of Pittsburgh paid the highest price today at the sale of the Belle Meade stock farm, securing Lelie Eastin, b. m., 10 (Bishop-Imp Dublin Belle), for $5,000.

The 143 head sold today brought an aggregate of $134,890, an average of $943 30.

THE BOND PLAN HALTED AGAIN

NEW POINT RAISED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.

Agreeing with the decision of the court of errors and appeals in the Berger case in all but one particular, Vice Chancellor Emery at Newark, N. J., today filed his decision in the suit of J. Aspinwall Hodge and others to prevent the United States Steel Corporation from retiring $200,000,000 of preferred stock and issuing bonds instead. In his decision the vice chancellor says:

"I will advise that a preliminary injunction be granted upon the terms that if the defendant desires to appeal the complainant shall consent that the cause be set down for hearing at the next term of the court of errors and appeals."

A resolution was adopted by the United States Steel Corporation ordering the retirement of the preferred stock. According to the vice chancellor, the meeting of the directors at which the resolution was adopted was prematurely called and the retirement of the stock under the resolution must, therefore, be enjoined.

The vice chancellor reviews at length the question that arose in the former similar suit against the Steel Corporation, which he decided in favor of Mrs. Miriam Berger, the complainant, and which decision the appellant court recently reversed; but, in the meantime, the company's project was halted by a temporary injunction in the proceeding instituted by Mr. Hodge and his fellow-complainants, William H. Curtis and Bernard Smith.

The court refers to the fact that the bill in the Berger case was filed solely on the complainant's own behalf and against the corporation and the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., to enjoin the issuing of bonds under the contract. No directors of the company were made parties defendant, but it was charged that four of the firm were directors at the time the contract was made, and its validity was assailed upon that ground.

The answer denied the complainants' contentions, except that it held that the compensation was beneficial and reasonable. It claimed that under a by-law of the corporation the bankers' contract was valid.

The complainants claimed that the votes of the stock held or controlled by the bankers and members of the syndicate had to be counted in order to make up the necessary two-thirds. Without the syndicate votes the requisite number did not, it was maintained, approve the reduction of stock.

400 REBELS KILLED BEFORE SURRENDER

Uribe-Uribe's Troops Surrounded and Badly Whipped Before He Gave Up.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLON, Oct. 29.—Further news has reached here of the engagement, October 24, at Rio Frio, near Laclenaga, which resulted in the surrender of the revolutionary generals Uribe-Uribe and Castillo.

The government general, Marjares, arrived at Rio Frio with reinforcements of 2,000 men. These troops were destined for the isthmus and their arrival at Rio Frio was unexpected. The government forces already before the rebel positions, in conjunction with the men of Marjares' command, managed to surround the enemy completely, and after a well-contested engagement, to force them to surrender.

According to terms of capitulation, Gen. Uribe-Uribe undertakes to bring about the surrender of all revolutionary bands now in the departments of Magdalena and Bolivar. He goes to Bogota to confer with the Colombian government to this end.

Mrs. Pat Campbell Collapses.

PROFOUND IGNORANCE OF SCHWAB'S HEALTH

Meanwhile the Machine He Has Moulded Moves With Clock-Like Precision.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.

Officials of the United States Steel Corporation have not been informed of any intention on the part of Mr. Schwab to retire from the presidency. In a general way they know he is seeking health abroad, but, excepting his most intimate friends and relations, few are aware of the state of his health.

Members of the so-called Pittsburgh element in this city, with whom President Schwab is on most friendly terms, profess entire ignorance as to the progress he is making toward recovery, on which, of course, depends his resuming the duties of his position.

Some of Mr. Schwab's friends said today that his actual condition is carefully guarded by those with whom he corresponds. All that can be obtained, after friendly inquiry, is the reply: "He is well." His seeming secretiveness has given a certain air of mystery out of which sinister reports have risen.

Late private dispatches from abroad indicate that it is not Mr. Schwab's intentions to return to this country before April. Meanwhile the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation are being managed by an organization which is considered almost perfect, so far as industrial management goes.

The order books of the combine were never fuller, and its officials say the only question of policy that confronts them is that of getting out the material with the dispatch demanded by the customers.

CERNOBBIO, ITALY, Oct. 29.—(Special Cable.)—Charles M. Schwab left the Villa Eole this morning in an automobile for Genoa to meet the yacht Margarita. The future movements of Mr. Schwab have not been fully outlined, but it is not unlikely that he will extend his trip along the Mediterannean sea. His lavishness with money, as exemplified by his chartering of special trains and boats and his carriage drives along Lake Como, have astonished the Italians, who never before saw a man make such great expenditures in so short a time.

Mr. Schwab, it is said, expects to have an audience with Pope Leo before he leaves Italy.

SWORDS INTO PLOWS BUT NOT INTO PENS

Boer Generals Make Their Position in Diplomacy Very Plain.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.

A special to the World from London says:

Gens. Botha, DeWet and Delarey have steadfastly refused to speak or to write for publication since they arrived in Europe, but Gen. Botha, as the chief of the Boer mission, has now given to the World this final statement of the mission's position and policy:

"Swords may be readily beaten into plowshares, but it is not so easy to turn them into fine pens. Nor is the rough, racy language of soldiers and farmers a suitable medium for diplomatic discussions in Europe.

"My comrades and myself have felt this keenly from the outset, and we would much rather have striven in our humble way to make history than to write it. That is to say, we would have gladly co-operated with our new government to smooth away the traces of bitterness left by the war and to lay the foundation for the well being of South Africa.

"That was our fervent desire from the first—not the drawing up of manifestos and appeals. Yet we took the latter course instead of the former, and our words have been misconstrued; to our actions have been assigned the wrong motives, and our very aims have been misstated and condemned. The British people have no reason to doubt our sincerity."

Objects to Immaculate Conception.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The very Rev. William H. Fremantle, dean of Ripon, addressing a meeting of the Churchmen's union today, created a sensation by suggesting that the idea of the immaculate conception should be left out of account, because, except in St. Matthew and St. Luke, the virginal birth of Christ is not mentioned in the New Testament.

100,000 SURPLUS OF QUAKER VOTES

Commissioner Durham Has $20,000 to Back Opinion of Election.

QUAY FIGURES SOON

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Public Ledger Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 29.

"The Gazette can quote me for the prediction that Philadelphia will give Judge Pennypacker a majority of over 100,000; that we will elect all of our candidates for congress, the legislature, and the full county ticket."

Insurance Commissioner Durham made this statement tonight. The commissioner is in a position to speak as authoritatively as is possible for anyone to do in advance of election. He is more closely in touch with State Chairman Quay than any other leader, and what he does not know about Quaker City politics would not be helpful to the opposition.

"That Judge Pennypacker will carry the state, outside of Philadelphia, is a proposition I stand ready to back by a wager of $20,000. This amount, or more, will be split in amounts to suit those who have confidence in the claims of the Democrats, who for weeks have been saying Pattison had a sure thing on the state if the Philadelphia vote is not considered.

"Judge Pennypacker, in my opinion, will carry the state by a decisive majority outside of both cities—Philadelphia and Pittsburgh—and I would like to get in touch with someone who is anxious to chance his money to the contrary."

Chairman Quay said tonight he does not expect to give out his figures until Monday. He regards the fight as over. Secretary W. R. Andrews said that not only would the Republicans have a handsome majority outside the two cities, but that they would make congressional gains. Mayor Ashbridge is equally positive. CHESTER D. POTTER.

MAKING HASTE SLOWLY.

President's Views on Trust Question Will Not Lead Him Into Any Rash Policy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—The Sun this morning says:

President Roosevelt discussed with George Gunton at Washington today at some length his views on the subjects of tariff revision and trusts. It appeared during the interview that the president is anxious that nothing shall be done to disturb settled business conditions, and that he is opposed to any precipitate action in regard to the tariff schedules.

He still holds, as declared in his Indianapolis speech, that the creation of a permanent tariff commission would be a good thing. Although the president holds the radical views in regard to trusts, which he has expressed in many public speeches, he made it known today that he intends to advocate measures that will accomplish his ends gradually, and that will avoid any upsetting of business and commercial prosperity.

He is seeking the views of many persons on these subjects.

NEW COMMITTEE NAMED.

Matter of Leasing First German Church Site to Be Taken Up.

At a meeting of the trustees of the First German United Evangelical Protestant church last night three members of the board of trustees and three members from the congregation were appointed a committee to take up the matter of leasing a portion of the property.

The committee is composed of William Fress, chairman; C. L. Graf, secretary; John Luckhardt, Frederick Manna, Otto E. Oetting, Henry Berg and Julius Elcher. The committee will meet on November 12.

New Support for Acheson.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The Beaver Falls Tribune, in its last night's issue, came out in a leading editorial favoring the candidacy of the Hon. E. F. Acheson for congress. In this congressional fight the Tribune has heretofore been neutral.

President's Sister Improving.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Dr. G. Wynkop, Mrs. Douglas Robinson's physician, said today that his patient was improving. "Mrs. Robinson is not suffering from any disease," he said. "She has a good deal of cold and is somewhat run down, but that is all."

HEAVY BURDEN ALWAYS RESTS ON PRESIDENT

No Other Ruler Under Free Institutions With Power So Great.

MANY MEN SHARE RESPONSIBILITY

ROOSEVELT ON SUBJECT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Oct. 29.—In an article written for the Youth's Companion, which will be published next week, Theodore Roosevelt gives his ideas of the duties and responsibilities of the president of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote the article in 1900, while he was governor of New York and previous to the Republican national convention which nominated him for vice president. In the article Mr. Roosevelt says:

"The president of the United States occupies a position of peculiar importance. In the whole world there is no other ruler, certainly no other ruler under free institutions, whose power compares with his. Of course, there is the enormous personal factor of the incumbent himself to be considered entirely apart from the power of the office itself. This is merely another way of stating that in any office the personal question is always of vital consequence.

Senators Are Advised.

"The senators are the constitutional advisers of the president. The secretaries who form the cabinet advise him on matters of general policy, when he so desires it. With the senate, the advice and consultation are obligatory under the constitution. The senate has no right to dictate to the president who shall be appointed, but they have an entire right to say who shall not be appointed, for under the constitution this has been made their duty.

"Although many men must share with the president the responsibility, there is upon him always a heavy burden of responsibility. It is easy enough to give a bad administration, but to give a good administration demands the most anxious thought, no less than very unusual powers of mind.

"There is every reason why the president should be held to a sharp accountability, alike for what he does and for what he leaves undone.

Alway Worthy of Respect.

"But we injure ourselves and the nation if we fail to treat with proper respect the man who, in the highest office in our land, is striving to do his duty. We have had presidents who have acted weakly or unwisely in particular crises, but we have never had one concerning whose personal integrity there was so much as a shadow of suspicion.

"Appointments and policies which are normally routine and unimportant may suddenly become of absolutely vital consequence. The war department was utterly neglected for over 30 years after the civil war. Neither the regular officers nor the regular soldier takes any part in politics as a rule, so that the demagogue and bread-and-butter politician have no fear of his vote; and to both of them, and also to the cheap sensational newspaper, the army offers a favorite subject for attack.

Army Menace Only to Foes.

"So it often happens that some amiable people really get a little afraid of the army and have some idea that it may be used some time or other against our liberties. The army never has been, and, I am sure, it never will be or can be, a menace to anybody save America's foes, or aught but a source of pride to every good and far-sighted American."

"When an emergency like that caused by the Spanish war arises, the secretary of war becomes the most important officer.

"Altogether, there are few harder tasks than that of filling well and ably the office of president of the United States. But if the man at the close of his term is able to feel that he has done his duty well, he has the satisfaction of feeling that he has performed one of the great world tasks and that mere performance is in itself the greatest of all possible rewards."

KRUGER WRITES BITTERLY.

He Says Lying, Bribery and Treachery Were Welcomed By Rhodes.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—It is expected a second installment of extracts from the "Kruger Memoirs" will be published today. Mr. Kruger describes the "Jesuitical" Cecil Rhodes as the "curse of South Africa." He says: "No matter how base or contemptible, be it lying, bribery or treachery, all and every means were welcome to him."

Mr. Kruger declares that Secretary Chamberlain was undoubtedly Rhodes' accomplice in the Jameson raid and that Chamberlain appointed Lord Milner high commissioner with the direct intention of driving matters to extremes. "This tool of Mr. Chamberlain," says Mr. Kruger, "carried out his mission faithfully and turned South Africa into a wilderness."

MISS GOULD USES A SILVER SPADE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—A special from Newport News, Va., to the World says: "Miss Helen M. Gould broke ground today for the new army Y. M. C. A. building at Fort Monroe, for which she subscribed $10,000. STONE THROWERS IN PITTSBURGH

Shameful Attack Made Upon Fourteenth Regiment in Fifth Avenue.

SOLDIERS ARE SURPRISED

"Stone-throwers" were supposed to be plenty in the anthracite strike regions, but the Fourteenth regiment passed through three weeks of service in that section unscathed, only to come home to find itself the object of assault. As the Fourteenth passed Wood street and Fifth avenue, marching from the train to the armory above the market, about 11:15 a. m. yesterday, chunks of concrete, blocks of wood and shovelfuls of dirt were thrown upon the soldiers from a scaffolding at the 21st floor of the Farmers' Deposit National bank building.

No one was seriously hurt, although several were struck. Only discipline prevented response to this attack.

Strong indignation was stirred. All day yesterday it was the main subject of conversation all over the city. An investigation has been started, and if the identity of the miscreants is discovered, they will be handed over to the police.

A Dastardly Assault.

Swinging down Fifth avenue from Grant street in company line, glad to be home, and greeted on all sides with welcomes, the boys of the Fourteenth had begun to feel that they had returned to the best place on earth, when the missiles began to fall among them.

Lieut. Col. Corbett was commanding the regiment. With his staff Col. Corbett was passing across Wood street, when the missiles began to fall. For a few seconds little attention was paid the attack, as it was thought to be accidental.

As the first battalion, composed of Companies F, K and A, passed the building a second and larger fall of concrete and pieces of timber dropped among the soldiers. Several men were seen leaning over the scaffolding, nearly 300 feet in the air, in the act of throwing. An outcry went up, but Capt. McKee kept the ranks of the battalion intact and the men marched past unhurt.

The second battalion, Maj. Robert M. Ewing, followed. As Maj. Ewing passed, some called to him to look out. He turned his head just in time to escape a heavy block of wood, which dashed to pieces on the pavement. Companies H, D and I passed through a heavy shower of missiles.

As the third battalion, Maj. Harry D. Fowler, came up, the shower increased. A large piece of concrete whizzed past Maj. Fowler's head. As Company E passed, Private Frank Shaffer received a shovelful of plaster and concrete on the head and back. Many of the men lowered their guns and some slipped ball cartridges into them, but a stern word of command was given and the march continued.

Company G followed. As his men reached the building Capt. Joseph Rising halted them and, changing his sword to his left hand, drew his revolver and covered the scaffold. Then he marched his company past. The men on the scaffold saw the pistol and took to shelter.

Crowd Was Angered.

When the regimental band was passing one of the big brick-like blocks of wood struck the cymbal in the hand of one of the musicians and bent the brass out of shape. Lieut. George B. Shields, regimental inspector of rifle practice, also had a narrow escape. A big block of wood struck a street car at his side, coming within 10 inches of his head. Several privates were struck, but none seriously hurt.

The streets were thronged and the attack seemed to stun the crowd. As the regiment passed on, maintaining its discipline, a cheer rang out and there was a demand for the capture of those guilty of the outrage.

Col. Thompson said that he had received no official report of the proceeding and would not speak of it until such a report had been made.

An investigation was started by Assistant Superintendent Pickett of the contractors' forces erecting the great structure. Mr. Pickett said yesterday afternoon that he was trying to locate the guilty men, and that if discovered they would be summarily dealt with. All deny knowledge of the affair.

Gideon Hicks, a union carpenter employed on the building, said: "The report that the men who did this cowardly piece of business were mechanics is certainly false. No man fit to be a mechanic would be guilty of it. There are many unskilled laborers who might be started at such a thing by some rabid blatherskite. There are also many young fellows employed as apprentices and helpers. If the mechanics on the building learn who the missile-throwers are they will do all in their power to secure their arrest and conviction."

Arrival of the Regiments.

The Eighteenth regiment was the first of the two Pittsburgh commands to reach the city yesterday on their return from the anthracite region. The two sections bearing the command came in over the Pennsylvania railroad at 5:30 yesterday morning. There was a notable dash for restaurants as soon as the men had been discharged from this tour of duty.

The Fourteenth reached Pittsburgh in one long troop train about 11 a. m. Headed by the staff and band, the regiment marched down Liberty avenue to Smithfield street, up Sixth avenue to Grant, around the court house, back to Fifth avenue and down Fifth to the armory. Although the time of the arrival of the regiment had not been known, good sized crowds greeted the command along the streets.

W. D. Wilson, business agent of the Marble Setters union, said: "It was a shame, and you can say for me and the majority of the men of our union, that we deprecate the attack. I will personally do all in my power to locate the offenders and have them reported to our organization."

Secretary William Dodds of the Pittsburgh district of the United Mine Workers, said: "It was outrageous. The anthracite miners, while the troops were in the coal country, had no cause to complain of them. When the Fourteenth infantry left Mahanoy City, I understand the people turned out en masse to give them God speed."

CITY AND NATION WERE DISGRACED

J. C. Buffum of Pittsburgh, a former member of the Eighteenth regiment, created a sensation at the meeting of the officers of that regiment in City hall last night to take action on the attack on the Fourteenth regiment. A resolution was to have been introduced, when Mr. Buffum addressed the meeting.

He declared that the scene at Fifth avenue and Wood street was a disgrace to Pittsburgh and to the soldiery of the United States. He stated that the building from which the stones were thrown should have been immediately surrounded and every man inside arrested. "If we are going to be a soldiery," he said, "let us be such and defend our rights. We must not allow a gang of hoodlums to take advantage of our position and stone us. The dignity of the national guard should be upheld."

A resolution was unanimously adopted, as follows:

As officers of the Eighteenth regiment, N. G. P., we desire to express our disapproval of the insulting, un-American and slanderous treatment of the Fourteenth regiment, N. G. P., on its return this morning from the anthracite coal fields. Such treatment accorded our comrades of the Fourteenth regiment in Fifth avenue this morning demonstrates that some people have a wrong conception of the duties of a member of the national guard. A member of the national guard does not enlist for any special duty, but for all duty, and the men who three weeks ago obeyed the order of the governor would murmur against a like call of the president of the United States.

YERKES DEFEATS MORGAN

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The efforts of the promoters of the Morgan "tube" railway scheme to procure the re-establishment of parliamentary status of their original franchise bill as a whole led to an hour's debate in the house of commons tonight, the only result of which was the withdrawal of the endeavor.

The Morgans intend to ask later for the recommittal of the bill granting rights for their proposed "tube" and other lines, without regard to the London United Tramway Company, which was privately bought up by the Yerkes interests.

Thomas G. Ashton, who moved the recommittal of the Morgan bill, accused the London United Company of a dishonorable transaction and said he doubted whether so "dirty a transaction" had ever been entered into by parties coming before parliament.

WILL CURTAIL BIG REBATE CONTRACTS

Workers' Terms of Tin Plate Settlement Put a Limit on Business.

The conference committee of the tin plate workers of the Amalgamated association yesterday closed the detail scale settlement with Auditor W. P. Beaver of the American Tin Plate Company. More of the details of the rebate scheme were brought to light. By altering the proposition, so that each worker contributes 3 per cent of his earnings to a trust fund in the hands of the treasurer of the association, to be paid back to the American Tin Plate Company at the rate of 25 per cent of the labor cost on such plate as is proven to have substituted the foreign business, the workers handicapped the scheme of the company to capture 1,500,000 boxes of this business.

This shows some flaw in the representations of the officials of the Amalgamated association, that a 25 per cent wage reduction on the import business turned to the American Tin Plate Company, and the amount of 3,500,000 boxes, would only mean an average reduction of 3½ per cent.

The new condition of the agreement brought out in the announcement yesterday is that one box of drawback plate only can be made for each seven and a third boxes made for the domestic trade. At this rate, the company would have to sell to the domestic trade 11,000,000 boxes to take care of the 1,500,000 boxes of the rebate trade figured on. This is impossible, for the production by all mills of the country last year was less than 8,000,000 boxes.

The American Tin Plate Company will sell the plate to the consumers, using it to export as packages, at the usual price, and upon the evidence of its being so exported will rebate to the consumer the necessary difference to make the net price near that which these interests have paid for the Welsh plate.

ROOSEVELT SEES ABUNDANT REASONS FOR GIVING THANKS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt today issued this Thanksgiving proclamation:

By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation:

According to the yearly custom of our people it falls upon the president at this season to appoint a day of festival and thanksgiving to God.

Over a century and a quarter has passed since this country took its place among the nations of the earth and during that time we have had on the whole more to be thankful for than has fallen to the lot of any other people. Generation after generation has grown to manhood and passed away. Each has had to bear its peculiar burdens, each to face its special crises and each has known years of grim trial, when the country was menaced by malice, domestic or foreign levy, when the hand of the Lord was heavy upon it in drought or flood or pestilence, when in bodily distress and anguish of soul it paid the penalty of folly and a froward heart.

Nevertheless, decade by decade, we have struggled onward and upward; we now abundantly enjoy material well-being, and under the favor of the Most High we are striving earnestly to achieve moral and spiritual uplifting. The year that has just closed has been one of peace and of overflowing plenty. Rarely has any people enjoyed greater prosperity than we are now enjoying. For this we render heartfelt and solemn thanks to the Giver of Good; and we seek to praise Him, not by words only, but by deeds, by the way in which we do our duty to ourselves and to our fellow men.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, the 27th of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for the manifold blessings of the past year.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and twenty-seventh.

By the President, THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

LAST ATTEMPT TO SAVE GRAHAM

Senator Foraker and Attorney General Elkin Speak at Allegheny Meeting.

LOCAL ISSUES DODGED

Triumph of Republism Preached by Foraker and Penrose Eulogized—Audience Did Not Like Mr. Graham.

Organization men from Pittsburgh, Allegheny and many other points in the county gathered in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, last night.

Congressman Graham stated that he had written personal invitations to United States Senator Foraker of Ohio and Attorney General Elkin asking them to speak at the gathering. Both preached Republicanism and both ignored the fact that George Shiras is as good a Republican as Mr. Graham.

There were some vacant seats on the lower floor and many of the gallery chairs remained unoccupied. It is estimated that 1,500 people attended. The audience was as cold as the one which assembled at Carnegie hall, Pittsburgh, last week, and the speakers received little applause, save on national issues.

Not Stuck on Graham.

The audience wanted to hear the Ohio statesman and Attorney General Elkin, but it did not relish the idea of sitting for 30 minutes while Mr. Graham made his plea for support, and voiced its sentiment when the congressman from the Twenty-ninth district referred to the attorney general's name. Loud cries were heard for "Elkin!" "Elkin!" and these finally

THE HON. J. B. FORAKER.

Francis J. Torrance presided at the gathering. He did not refer to anything political, save when he introduced Mr. Graham. Then he spoke of a glorious war record and repeated several pages of family history. Senator Foraker said in part:

"There is only one man in the race in Pennsylvania and he is Judge Pennypacker. But I came not here to talk of Judge Pennypacker, but to talk of both state and congressional elections. Next Tuesday you will vote for a congressman for the next two years and I came here to speak for that congressman. I want to see him returned to congress."

Foraker was here interrupted by cries of "Shiras." "Shiras," which came from the end of the hall. He stopped a few moments and then proceeded.

"We have so many Republicans this year we do not know what to do with them. They possibly can't all get in here, but they can get to the ballot box. I am informed by Mr. Graham, that you have local differences in politics in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, but I didn't come here to discuss them.

"The president should have the support of a Republican senate and house of representatives and for that reason I don't want any milk and water Republicans sent to Washington. Elect for us a legislature, which will give us a successor to Boies Penrose, and may that successor be Penrose himself.

"I have known Mr. Penrose for many years, and he is one of the ablest and most faithful men in the senate today.

"For years the Democrats harped on free trade, but there is no discussion of that issue now. Free trade has perished. Free silver was then substituted, but something happened to that, and it is now unheard of. It died under an avalanche of McKinley prosperity.

"There is not such another industrial city in the United States as Pittsburgh. It is the best Republican city, and, oh, what a pleasure it is to hear from Pittsburgh on the night of the election.

Democrats Disappointed.

"A few weeks ago the Democrats were alive with hope and expectation on account of the coal strike in Pennsylvania. Winter was coming on and there was no anthracite coal. The hopes of the Democrats were thoroughly aroused. They like to feed on calamities. They were just getting ready to adopt the coal strike issue, when along came President Roosevelt and smashed it.

"In Cincinnati we are all interested in the improvements of the Ohio river. We must have this river improved, so we can get the commerce of the great Ohio valley out on it. When these improvements are all completed you will be erecting 30-story buildings in Pittsburgh. These river improvements will be of the greatest advantage to Pittsburgh.

Attorney General Elkin was greeted with quite a little applause. "I have been asked many times in the past two weeks if I intended to vote the Republican ticket this fall," he said, "and I say here, as I have said before that I am going to vote the straight Republican ticket. It is true that I shied a castor into the ring not long ago and I made a hard canvass for the nomination for governor. My fight was not a game of ping-pong. I assure you, but a game of straight political football from start to finish. I laid my case before the people and promised if defeated I would support the regular Republican nominee."

PROTECTON MUST BE NATIONAL IN SCOPE

Secretary Moody Says Congressmen Should Study Deeply Tariff Revision.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BROKTON, MASS., Oct. 29.—At a Republican rally here tonight the principal speakers were William H. Moody, secretary of the navy, and his immediate predecessor in that office, John D. Long. Mr. Long discussed the tariff question at length.

Mr. Moody said he believed it to be the duty of every congressman to spare no effort in the matter of tariff revision, to care for the interest of the industries of his district, but free raw material and the continuance of protection upon manufactured product is unattainable by the act of either of the great parties.

Constant preaching of that doctrine, he said, is sectional, unprofitable and unwise in the extreme, because its tendency is to defeat the very purpose which it is intended to accomplish.

Free trade will mean free raw material and manufactured products, but protection must be national in its scope.

The capture of the market of the world, Mr. Moody said, had been made possible by protection.

BRUCE HEAD'S SUDDEN TURN FOR THE WORSE

Dr. Duncan's Victim Is in a Precarious Condition, Although Bullet Has Been Removed.

Bruce Head's condition was worse yesterday than at any time since he was shot. Late last night Dr. R. L. Walker was summoned and remained with the wounded man until after midnight. Since the operation was performed on him Tuesday afternoon, when the bullet was removed from his neck, Head has become very weak. Last night Dr. Walker said that unless Head's mouth healed soon, so he could take solid food, it would be impossible to save him.

After the operation on Tuesday he seemed to be improving. Early yesterday his condition seemed to change. He asked to see his half-brother, John B. Carter, who quickly hurried to his bedside. At 10 o'clock last night Dr. Walker was summoned for the third time during the day.

Dr. Duncan, in the county jail, was visited yesterday by his uncle, W. H. McClure, and his attorney, George Elphinstone. The attorney talked to Dr. Duncan for almost an hour. Dr. Duncan does not know of Head's sudden turn for the worse.

GUTHRIE REFUSES TO GIVE ANY NAMES

Repeats Bribery Charges Against the Legislature, but Does Not Point Out Guilty Men.

George W. Guthrie sailed into the Republican government of the state without gloves last night before a gathering which half filled Penn hall, Wilkinsburg.

The major portion of his speech was taken up with charges that representatives elected by the people as anti-Quay had been persuaded to betray their constituents and return the senior senator in one instance, while wrecking the hopes of Elkin in the other.

On the challenge of Quay that the names of those alleged to have been bought be given Mr. Guthrie said that men did not betray their honor and bring upon themselves the odium of deserting their instructions without receiving something in return, and that it did not matter whether this was in the shape of cash, office or promise of support so long as they were persuaded to betray their constituents.

Eight Stories.

The picture in Campbell's advertisement today tells in a taking and comprehensive way of a fact that will surprise many people. Everybody knows the Fifth avenue front of "The People's Store," but of the thousands that trade there probably not one customer in ten have ever seen the eight-story building in Virgin alley, which contains four important retail departments and the great reserve stock reached from which every counter in the store draws its supplies.

When men lived high and wore "smalls" they suffered so much with gout that the "smalls" were too uncomfortable, and hence trousers came in vogue — just 100 years ago. The gout has decreased since, but trousers have remained—each season giving slight varieties in shape.

The new shape is here in all the new Scotch effects —$2.50, $3, $3.50 and $4.

Handsomest trousers ever produced.

Chickering Piano the Unquestioned Favorite.

For Nearly a Quarter of a Century the Leader of All Pianos.

Pittsburgh the world over is noted for its devotion to the two extremes—the eminently practical and the artistic.

It exceeds every other city in the world in the actual possession and production of material wealth—and no city in the world can show a greater interest in the arts.

Next to cultured Boston, Pittsburgh is most madly devoted to the Chickering Piano, beyond doubt, the most artistic Piano in the world. The Chickering is the oldest Piano in America. It has been for nearly a century and today is the conceded leader of all pianos. Its distinguished feature is the perfect tone of a sweet, mellow, appealing quality that is not found in any other. Indeed no piano even approaches the Chickering's remarkable merits for instrumental or as accompaniment to vocal music.

This—the Chickering—is the piano which is the unquestioned favorite in all music-loving Greater Pittsburgh, with its population of nearly a million. It is in the homes of the multi-millionaires, who can afford the best regardless of price, and in the homes of the middle classes, who cannot afford to put their money into any but the best.

W. F. Frederick, 633 Smithfield street, near Seventh avenue, is the sole agent for the (genuine) Chickering Pianos; also the famous Hardman, Kroeger, McPhail, Behr Bros., Haines & Co., and other Pianos. Mason & Hamlin and Estey organs, and, the best of all, the Chase & Baker Piano player.

MACHINE ORDERS POLICE TO WORK

Fines of Elect to Be Remitted, But Citizens Men Will Get Salty Sentences.

MUDDY WATER TO FORE

Flinn's Pet Organization Doing Greatest Work for Ring, Whose Funds Are Running Low.

Driven to the use of extreme methods on account of the heavy gains being made everywhere by the Citizens party, the organization has sent instructions to all police magistrates to watch the men who appear at their hearings from now until after election. If a prisoner is in sympathy with the ring, he is to be discharged if the offense is not too grave. If it is, he is to be fined and later his fine remitted or reduced to a nominal sum.

Offenders wearing Citizens party buttons are to be held on the most trivial charges possible and some missionary political work is to be done by the policemen.

The police hearings on election morning are to be earlier than usual. Organization prisoners are to be released, while, if any Citizen sympathizer is discovered, he is to languish in a cell for a day at least, unless some of his friends hear of his plight and pay his fine.

Funds Are Getting Low.

The organization campaign fund is getting low. The drain on its has been heavy for two weeks and unless the coffers are replenished at once there may be a lapse in enthusiasm in the organization ranks.

The organization relies on the "muddy water" party of Senator Flinn's to help it out. Agents for this watch tower organization were busily engaged yesterday among the firemen. The bureau of health employes were visited by several of the lieutenants, who were active in the West End and Oakland districts.

Recorder Brown yesterday made a statement that the total vote next Tuesday would be heavy, and that at least 105,600 ballots would be cast. The recorder said he believed the returns on election night would be late.

Another Lie Nailed.

Being unable to find any fault with the candidates on the Citizens ticket, the organization has resorted to an attack on workers for the Citizens party. A circular letter was distributed on the South Side attacking Joseph H. Vitchestain, a Citizens workers. The letter charges that Vitchestain was responsible for the arrest and imprisonment of a number of miners in Washington county in 1898. In an open letter, William Dodds, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers for No. 6 district, says:

In connection with the circular charging Mr. H. Vitchestain furnishing information that led to the arrest of myself and 21 of miners in Washington county in 1898, I hereby denounce and declare the same to be absolutely false, and further state that Mr. Vitchestain had nothing whatever to do with the arrest of any miner in the Pittsburg district, nor did I make any statement to the effect that he was connected in any way with such arrest.

CHINA AGAIN ASKS HELP OF UNCLE SAM

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—Minister Wu is hopeful that China will be the power to submit the second case for the arbitration of The Hague tribunal. He is working hard to induce the powers parties to the treaty of Peking to consent to arbitrate the question whether the indemnities shall be paid on a gold or a silver basis.

It is said that the insistence of the powers upon a settlement on the gold basis would ruin the Chinese empire, which is totally unable to pay nearly 400,000,000 taels in gold.

The first instalment of the indemnity became due last July. A decision was staved off by the acceptance of the first payment in silver, the United States reserving the right to demand any balance that might be due if it should ultimately be held that the settlement should be made on a gold basis. The next payment will become due in January.

Mr. Wu has appealed to the United States for help in influencing the other powers. Secretary Hay has consented to accept the silver proposition if the other powers can be brought into line.

THE WEATHER.

The first touch of winter the residents of Pittsburgh and vicinity felt yesterday did not last long. Snow fell in light flurries in the Monongahela valley and all day a raw wind blew in Pittsburgh. The temperature began rising late in the afternoon and the weather last night was pleasant. The latter condition is likely to continue for 24 hours, according to the prediction sent out last night from the Washington weather bureau. The maximum temperature was 47 at 4 p. m. The minimum was 39.

MYSTERY AROUND DEATH OF HAGAN

Well-Known Caterer Fell in Agony as He Entered Home.

STORY OF AN EMPLOYE

Says That Hagan Mixed Silver Polish With Whiskey and Drank It—Physicians Attribute Death to Heart Trouble.

Mystery surrounds the end of E. W. Hagan, the well-known caterer, who dropped dead in his home at No. 220 Meyran avenue, yesterday morning, shortly after 9 o'clock. Dr. J. V. Porter of No. 3604 Fifth avenue says that Hagan died of heart trouble. Annie Dilworth, his bookkeeper, and Thomas Scarbaugh, a colored porter in his store at No. 3610 Fifth avenue, say that Hagan committed suicide by drinking a quantity of silver polish mixed with some whisky. Just how he came by his end will be determined Friday, when Coroner McGeary holds the inquest in the case.

Hagan has been in ill health for some time. He is said to have been worried over financial matters. Yesterday morning he came to the store and talked to Miss Dilworth for several minutes and then went to the rear of the building. Thomas Scarbaugh says that he saw him mix some silver polish and whisky and swallow the mixture. He then went to the front of the store and told Miss Dilworth that he was going home and would not be back.

He walked to his home in Meyran avenue, and as he entered the house, dropped dead in front of his wife. Mrs. Hagan sent for Dr. J. V. Porter and Dr. Walter F. Edmundson of No. 3509 Fifth avenue, but when the physicians arrived Hagan had been dead several minutes.

Coroner McGeary was notified and Deputy T. J. Rohan was detailed to make an investigation of the case. Upon investigation the deputy learned that Scarbaugh had seen Hagan mix the silver polish with some whisky and drain the glass. Both Scarbaugh and Miss Dilworth say that Hagan was despondent over his ill health and business matters.

Hagan was born in this city and was 53 years old. He was well known as a caterer throughout Pittsburgh. He is survived by his wife and two children. A post-mortem will probably be held today.

The morning session will be chiefly occupied with reports. In the afternoon William E. Meehan of Philadelphia will speak on "Special Schools as a Preventive of Reformatories," and David Willard of New York city will talk of "The Boy as a Youth." The evening session will be given up to the discussion of the juvenile court of Pennsylvania. Among the speakers will be Dr. Hannah J. Price of Delaware county, Mrs. Alice Montgomery, Philadelphia; Mrs. Frederick Schoff, Judge Abram M. Beitler, Philadelphia; Judge Joseph Buffington of Pittsburgh and the Rev. H. D. Lindsay, D. D. of the North church. Mrs. Florence Kelly will speak on Friday morning, her subject being "Child Labor."

Semi-Social Meeting.

A special meeting of the Women's clubs was held yesterday afternoon at the Central Young Women's Christian association to hear the report of Mrs. C. I. Wade, who was the delegate from the club to the General Federation of Women's clubs in Los Angeles, and of Mrs. Andrew Easton, the delegate to the state federation which recently met in Titusville. After the reports were presented refreshments were served and there was music. Next Tuesday the club will hold its regular meeting and a special musical program will be rendered by Miss Vandergrift. Social features will predominate. The presidents of other women's clubs will be guests of the Women's club during the afternoon.

DRUGGED SOLDIER IS IN BAD SHAPE

Miner's Treacherous Farewell to Private Younger of the Eighteenth Regiment.

Screaming and struggling in the arms of his comrades, after being drugged in one of the foreign saloons of Shenandoah, Private William Younger of Company L, Eighteenth regiment, arrive in the city with his command yesterday.

Shortly before the train pulled out of Shenandoah, Private Younger was invited by a miner to have a glass of beer. The pair went into a Polish saloon near the Philadelphia & Reading depot. Younger drank only one glass and boarded the train.

An hour later he was seized with cramps and went into convulsions. Assistant Surgeon Stieren worked with him until Pittsburgh was reached. Several times on the run from Lewistown, it was feared the man would die.

After the regiment reached the city he was sent to his home in Station street, East End, by Capt. Shaffer. Late last night his condition was more favorable and his physicians have some hopes of his recovery.

The men of his company said last night that his sufferings were intense, and that it required six soldiers to hold him. He was finally handcuffed and tied down to a seat. He frothed from the mouth and showed every signs of having been poisoned.

When the western brigade reached the coal regions Gen. Gobin sent verbal orders that the men be notified not to purchase drinks in the foreign saloons, as several members of the Eighth and Twelfth regiments were drugged.

Nursery Donation Day.

The managers of the Oakland Day Nursery yesterday held their annual reception and observed donation day. Many generous gifts of money and groceries were received. The managers next month will complete payment on the lot which they purchased, adjoining the site of the nursery at a cost of $2,800. The next work will be the building of an annex to the present house, in which a kindergarten may be established. During the past year the nursery has cared for 2,500 children, between 25 and 30 being received each day.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

To Prove What the Great Remedy, Swamp-Root Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of "The Gazette" May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free By Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE—If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder troubles, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. In writing, be sure to say that you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh "Daily Gazette."

Fine Oriental Rugs Reduced.

Just 6 of them left from the large number of the finest specimens that our representative selected while in the Orient last summer. We desire them out of the way and therefore bring the prices down to figures that is simply ridiculous.

Will you kindly allow us to offer some advice on the buying of Rugs from the East? The right way is to shop 'round, see different reputable stocks (for not all stocks are reputable), and get the most that your money will buy.

A fair price goes on every Rug we show here, and it remains the same to everybody. Now and then of course, just as in the present instance, we make reductions to clear up certain lines that have been sold down low, and of the half dozen we are here offering so much below the old prices, we simply have to say that the six buyers who take them will have, indeed, a floor covering that is to be envied.

You will notice all the sizes are extremely large.

No. 2954 is a fine Persian Serapi Rug—size 17 ft. 8 in. by 11 ft. 1 in. Cream ground, medallion center, the border mixed with blue, old rose and green. The old price was $485—the new price is $325.

No. 2956 is a handsome Persian Serapi Rug in the large size of 18 ft. 4 in. by 12 ft. 5 in. The ground is a lovely cream with the corners in a pretty contrast of blue; camel and pink in border; medallion center. The old price was $575—the new price is $385.

No. 300 is a Turkish Gullistan Rug, with medallion center and ivory border of red and green mixed. The size is 16 ft. 6 in. by 11 ft. 7 in. The old price was $325—the new price is $215.

No. 2951 is a beautiful Persian Serapi Rug, 18 ft. 1 in. by 12 ft. 1 in. in size. Cream ground, medallion center of blue and terra cotta mixed; the ground is covered with small effects; border terra cotta, blue and pink. Old price $485—new $325.

No. 2959 is another large Persian Serapi Rug, 18 ft. 3 in. by 11 ft. Ground of old gold with blue, green and old rose mixed in medallion. Border is light blue, camel and old rose mixed. The old price was $425—the new price is $285.

No. 3231, fine Serapi Rug, 18 ft. 2 in. by 11 ft. 3 in. Blue center with yellow corners and medallion. Cream and terra cotta border. Old price $500—new price $325.

Fine little Coats of wool cloth, velvets and silks—solid colors—trimmed with fancy contrasting braid, laces and tailor stitching, $2.50 up to $58.

Winter Caps for the tots, 50c, 75c and $1 and on up to finest fur-trimmed Caps and Bonnets, $15 to $25.

Handsome Novelties in Silk Waists.

To attempt to depict in words the finest and handsomest of Silk Waists; to point out their graceful lines and elaborate garnitures; to try to make readable a description of the artistic effects developed in Waists of this class, is simply delving into the borders of distraction, and at every step getting deeper. Handsome Waists, like brilliant gems, are not to be described in print. Of course, a great many words can be applied adjectively, but they count for naught. To understand the beauty of the Waists they must be seen. There is no other way to determine it.

We have just received a line of imported Waists, black and white, the work all done by hand. They are the highest type of Waist beauty.

Another line comprising handsome specimens in all colors and all shades of colors, trimmed with lace, and also in drawnwork effects, has a price range of $5, $7.50, $10, $12, $16.50, $18.50 and on to $60.

BRIBERY CHARGE GOES TO COURT

Hoy, Yingling and Pinks Waive Hearing at Clarion.

EACH GIVES $500 BAIL

By JOHN P. COWAN,
Staff Correspondent.

CLARION, PA., Oct. 29.—Representative J. A. F. Hoy, R. G. Yingling and James Pinks, the last two being trustees of the Clarion State Normal school, charged with conspiracy and bribery in connection with a recent state appropriation to the institution, today waived a hearing and furnished bail in the sum of $500 each for court. The preliminary hearing had been fixed for this morning before Justice A. R. Cyphert.

After a score of witnesses had traveled all night to be present, the defendants changed their minds, and Clarion county is held in suspense until the sensational details in the case are made public.

The prosecutors declare that they have gained an important point in the sudden decision of the defense to waive a hearing. When the informations were made last week Hoy expressed his willingness to go into a hearing at the earliest possible moment. He said the suits were brought to hurt his chances for re-election to the legislature and he desired immediate vindication. It was asserted that the prosecution could not make out a case and that the charges would fall flat when aired in court. Hoy still maintains that he wanted the hearing to go on, but acquiesced in its avoidance to oblige his co-defendants.

Much Feeling Created.

The political sages of Clarion can foresee little good in this for Hoy and criticize his unexpected change of base, insisting that he would have shown better wisdom by waiving a hearing at the outset.

No case in the history of Clarion county has created more feeling. It will be called in the November term. Nearly every attorney at the local bar is arrayed on one side of the other. A goodly portion of the male population will be subpoenaed as witnesses, and those who are not directly concerned in the trial will be there as interested spectators.

The alumni of the normal school, who are the prosecutors, regret that the action was taken at a time when the excuse of bad politics offered a refuge for the defendants. The alumni are certain they can prove their charges that $2,750 was paid out of Clarion's appropriation of $27,500, and was entered upon the minutes of the board of trustees as "repairs, etc." Affidavits substantiating this are made by C. E. Rugh, a member of the faculty of the school. It is charged that Yingling gave a wagon load of old pipe and that the bill was $2,750, styled on the books as "repairs, etc."

Senator Neely Present.

The money was appropriated for a new chapel for the school. Last summer a newspaper charged that 10 per cent had been paid to local politicians in order to have the fund recommended by the committee on appropriations.

Senator A. M. Neely, who was a Democratic member of the state senate when the appropriation was passed, came up from Pittsburgh today and was looked upon as the star witness for the prosecution. All the trustees of the school, as well as the officials of the local banks, were subpoenaed.

The hearing which was to have taken place before Justice Cyphert was well advertised, and this was an exceedingly busy day in Clarion. A score of persons subpoenaed to testify in the case traveled half the night in the face of a blinding storm of snow and sleet through the pine forests in order to get here on time. The court house was thronged and the attorneys gathered in the corridor, their arms filled with law tomes and great bunches of documents, when the announcement was made that the defendants had entered bail for court. The bail bonds were given by I. M. Shannon, president of the First National bank of Clarion; W. A. Graham, assistant cashier of the Second National bank, and Dr. J. T. Elmer.

Hoy Blames Enemies.

Immediately after the hearing Hoy said: "This is purely a matter undertaken by my political enemies. I preferred to have the hearing go on, but Yingling and Pinks advised giving bail for court and I agreed, not wishing to have an individual hearing. I. P. Mong, my political opponent, is the instigator of all this hubbub. A week ago he circulated the report in the country that I had been arrest I. The time fixed for my arrest also was well chosen to work out his malignant purpose. When Pattison, Guthrie and other Democratic candidates came to town last Saturday and our streets were filled with people, it was his design to have me dragged out of the crowd like a common culprit. In order that this act would be given all the publicity possible, an ignorant backwoods constable was selected to make the arrest. I avoided this humiliation by going before a justice myself. I deny all the charges that have been made against me."

Pinks is not talking for publication. He issued orders to a local photographer that no newspaper should be allowed to have his picture. To one of the witnesses today he is quoted as saying: "If the three of us are guilty, then there must be a great many more in the same boat."

Forbids Use of His Name.

The Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, yesterday made the following statement: "Knowledge has just reached me that my name is still being used as reference by fund collectors of the Rosedale Fresh Air home, said to be located at Stoops Ferry, opposite Sewickley. As I have twice forbidden the use of my name by these parties until proper evidence of the worthiness of the cause be placed before me, and as I have no way of knowing who are asked to give, allow me to say to the public that I do not commend this enterprise, and disavow any sponsorship therefor."

SALARY REVISION COMMITTEE AT WORK

Dr. J. C. McNeil, the City Veterinarian, and His Assistants Were On the Stand.

The meeting of the salary revision committee yesterday afternoon was devoted almost exclusively to horse talk. The Citizens members has the veterinary surgeon and his assistant on the stand and put them through a rigid examination in an endeavor to show that the expense of maintaining this service is much higher than is required.

Dr. J. C. McNeill, the chief veternary surgeon, testified to faithful and arduous services for $1,500 a year. He said that he could not afford to depend alone upon this compensation, but was obliged to take work from Booth & Flinn, the Consolidated Traction Company, besides acting as deputy veterinarian and examiner for the state. He said the additional positions did not interfere with the demands of the city upon his services, as he attended to his outside work at night. Dr. McNeill said that he made on an average 17 profesional visits daily in looking after the sick and disabled horses of the city.

W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the committee, remarked that "The city must have a lot of sick horses to require 17 visits a day."

Dr. McNeill stated that there were 387 horses in the public works and public safety departments. He said he looked after 207 of these, and his assistant, H. M. Meyers, treated the remainder. H. M. Meyer made known the fact that, in addition to drawing $125 a month from the city, he was paid by Chas. E. Flinn to attend to the horses used in the collection of the garbage.

Philip Demmel, superintendent of the bureau of detectives, admitted that men were placed through political favor who were of no use to him, and that he had to accept them and make the best of the material he had. He could not hire such men as he wanted or discharge them.

TRANCE VICTIM MAY DIE.

Shows Signs of Returning Consciousness, But Fever Is Very High.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Signs of returning consciousness were observed today in the case of Nellie Corcoran, who for 11 days had lain in a state of coma at St. Vincent's hospital, moaning and uttering inarticulate sounds as if trying to speak.

This afternoon she was noticed to be trembling violently and again she tried to rise. Her eyes opened, showing the pupils, which had not been much larger than a pin head, to have dilated. Her temperature today rose to 104 degrees, and all day it varied between 103 and 104 degrees. All efforts to rouse her were ineffectual. Owing to her high temperature the hospital staff fears that she may not live.

VICTORY FOR BISHOP TALBOT.

To Be No Inquiry on Charges Made by the Rev. Dr. Irvine.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The Rev. Dr. J. N. W. Irvine of Philadelphia has again failed to secure an inquiry by the house of bishops of the Episcopal church into the charges against the Rt. Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, bishop of Central Pennsylvania, by whom he was unfrocked for conduct unbecoming a minister while serving as rector of a parish at Huntingdon.

Bishop Dudley of Kentucky appointed a board of inquiry. This board met here today behind closed doors and adopted a resolution that no further proceedings by way of presentment on the charges proferred against Bishop Talbot should be countenanced.

WILL SPEND DAY DOWN IN MINES

START AT FOREST CITY

Will Probably Not Begin Taking Testimony Until Tour of Region Is Finished—May Receive Mitchell's Statement Monday.

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 29.—The anthracite coal strike commissioners, who will make an inspection of the mines and the homes of the mine workers, arrived here tonight. Commissioner Watkins, whose home is in this city, came early in the day and arranged the first day's tour of the upper region. The commission's headquarters are at the Hotel Jermyn, where the party occupies 14 rooms.

Tomorrow at 9:15 a. m. the party will leave in a special train for Forest City, in Susquehanna county, the upper edge of the hard coal fields, 22 miles from here. The operators will be represented by General Manager Bryden of the New York, Ontario & Western; Superintendent Rose of the Delaware & Hudson; General Manager Thorne of the Temple Iron Company and General Manager May of the Erie. District President Nicholls of the miners' union will be the principal representative of the miners. President Mitchell will not come to this city unless sent for.

At Forest City the party will be lowered into one of the Erie company's mines and it expected the entire morning will be spent under ground. As a precaution against accident, a superintendent, fire boss or practical miner will accompany each member of the party through the workings. A coal breaker will be visited at Carbondale and the return journey to Scranton will be made. The commissioners will stop at Olyphant, six miles north of Scranton, to visit other collieries and look at the homes and surroundings of the mine workers. Scranton will be reached at about 6 o'clock.

On Friday the commission will visit collieries in and about Scranton and view the mining suburbs. Saturday the commission will go to Wilkesbarre to further prosecute their investigations.

Mr. Watkins said that the commission will probably not sit to take testimony until after the tour of the region has been completed. It is possible that a session will take place Monday in Wilkesbarre to receive the statement of President Mitchell to which the operators have agreed to make answer within three days.

"The purpose of the commission just at present," Mr. Watkins said, "is to get a general view of the physical conditions of anthracite mining with the idea of giving the members of the commission unacquainted with coal mining an opportunity of seeing what a mine is like, how the miners work and live and how the product is handled."

ROOSEVELT IS AS GOOD AS NOMINATED

Senator Foraker Says Republicanism Will Score Greatest Victory in History.

"President Roosevelt does not need any nomination for a second term. He has already been nominated by the people, and it is the people who elect. He is the most popular president since Lincoln, and his nomination for a second term will be unanimous. His majority in 1904 cannot help but be the most overwhelming victory for the Republican party since its existence."

The above statement was made by United States Senator Foraker, as he alighted from a Panhandle train at the Union station last night. Senator Foraker said further:

"The situation in the west could not be better. I have just returned from Iowa, and throughout the entire western states there is no sentiment apparent but Republicanism. The western vote is solid for Roosevelt."

"Do you think Senator Hanna will enter the presidential field in 1904?" was asked.

Senator Foraker frowned and said:

"No, certainly not. Why should he?"

Senator Foraker was met at the Union station by Congressman Graham, Samuel C. Grier and George I. Rudolph of the Allegheny reception committee. After a hasty dinner at the Duquesne the senator went immediately to Carnegie Music hall, Allegheny.

MANSFIELD'S IRE UP.

Threatens Chicago Minister With Suit for Slander Unless He Publicly Apologizes.

Richard Mansfield, the actor, is after the scalp of the Rev. W. F. Hall of Chicago, and unless the latter makes public apology there will be trouble. Last Sunday, in the Temple of Music at Chicago, the Rev. Mr. Hall devoted the greater part of his discourse to uncomplimentary remarks about Mr. Mansfield. The Rev. Mr. Hall, it is alleged, declared from the pulpit that Mr. Mansfield cursed and swore while in Chicago because theaters were sometimes used for church services.

Mr. Mansfield declares in the most positive terms that this statement is utterly false. He says that he has the very highest respect for churches and church people; he never plays on Sunday, although the provocation to do so is sometimes very great; his friends also say that he never uses profanity.

In view of all these things Mr. Mansfield thinks that he has been maliciously slandered. His manager, Lyman B. Glover, yesterday telegraphed Mr. Mansfield's Chicago attorney, E. E. Prussing, and instructed him to enter suit at once against the Rev. Mr. Hall for slander, unless a complete and public apology be made.

A GOOD BARGAIN FOR FATHER PENN

He Is the Gainer by the Sale of Government Bonds and Purchase of State Bonds.

GOVERNOR EXPLAINS IT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—The story of the sale, by the state sinking fund commissioner, of $2,750,000 worth of United States 4 per cent bonds, sent out yesterday by the Democratic state committee for campaign purposes, was answered by Gov. Stone tonight in a speech at a Republican mass meeting at Oxford, Chester county. The governor admitted the sale of the bonds and showed how the state is the beneficiary instead of the loser by the transaction.

The sale was made by the sinking fund commission, composed of Secretary of the Commonwealth Griest, Auditor General Hardenbergh and State Treasurer Harris. Stone's explanation of the transaction follows:

The sinking fund commission, after consulting with the fiscal agents of the state, the Farmers and Mechanics National bank of Philadelphia, the governor and the attorney general, sold $2,750,000 United States 4s, 1907, for $2,100,205 03, being at a premium of about 111.97, netting to the state, after deducting commission, the principal of $2,750,000 and a premium of $350,205 03.

This sale was made between the 26th and 29th of December, 1901. They purchased $850,450 state bonds, which bear interest at 3½ per cent, due 1912, and $1,100,200 state bonds bearing interest at 4 per cent, due 1912, making a total of state bonds of $2,-950,650. These bonds were purchased at a premium of $331,967 98. In other words, the sinking fund commissioners sold $2,750,000 of government 4s at a premium of $350,205 03 and purchased $2,068,650 state bonds at a premium of $331,967 98.

Of course, they paid a higher premium for the state bonds than they received for the government bonds, because the state bonds have longer to run. The proceeds of the sale of the government 4s exceed the purchase of state bonds by $730,987 05, which amount is at present cash in the sinking fund, out of which state bonds will be purchased as fast as they can be secured at their value.

At the maturity of the government 4s the state would only get par for them, while the state bonds purchased by the state, having at that time still five years to run, would be worth as much as the government 4s are now. The state has lost in annual income for five years, but the state is really better off than it would have been had it retained these government bonds until they matured. The premium received on the government bonds by selling them last December at a time when they were commanding a higher premium and the interest on that premium during the five years, together with the interest saved on the state bonds purchased and the interest on $730,987 05 in the sinking fund, will amount to considerabe more than the state would have received had she retained her government bonds until they matured.

The commissioners of the sinking fund have simply sold government bonds having but five years to run at the highest premium to be obtained for them, and with the proceeds purchased the bonds of the state at their present value, which do not mature until 1912.

WHY PEOPLE OF CULTURE PREFER THE A. B. CHASE PIANO.

There are many excellent makes of pianos, and all have much in common. But there is one piano so far in advance of all others that it really has no rivals. All great masters of the piano and all persons who have kept in touch with the progress in piano manufacture during the past 20 years, affirm in the most unqualified terms the incomparable superiority of the A. B. Chase piano. Discriminating purchasers who can afford the best will have none other than the A. B. Chase. True, it was not the piano of 50 years ago. On the contrary, it is a purely modern product. It is the apex of modern skill and ingenuity and genius. It is the refinement of tonal beauty and has been aptly characterized as "an art piano for artists." While other makers rested content with the laurels won half a century ago, the makers of the A. B. Chase persisted patiently towards higher ideals of musical excellence than had ever before been dreamed of. And these ideas have been realized in the A. B. Chase piano, which is today the embodiment of the greatest excellence that has yet been achieved in piano making. And that is why people of culture prefer the A. B. Chase piano. They know and are careful to procure the best piano of today. Not for them the traditions of a far-off past. And it is because of its recognized position as first among pianos that the A. B. Chase is found at Hamilton's. It is but natural that the leading music house of the state should control the sale of the leading piano.

The Angelus Piano Player occupies relatively the same unique position as the A. B. Chase piano. The Angelus is unquestionably the best of all piano players. No other piano player in the world plays with such perfect expression. Nor does the superiority of the Angelus end here. It possesses an orchestral attachment by means of which the most delightful results are obtained, impossible with any other player, and greatly enriching its possibilities for producing charming musical effects. The Angelus plays any make of piano. And even a child can operate it. Come in and hear the Angelus.

SANE MAN SPENT YEAR IN ASYLUM

G. C. Olnhausen, Confined at Marshalsea, Released by Jury.

SERIOUS CHARGES MADE

Attorney Claimed Alleged Delusions of Persecution Existed as Facts—Doctors Disagreed on Lunacy of Contractor.

After being confined in the insane department at Marshalsea under the belief that his confinement was for life, a jury consisting of four attorneys and two business men yesterday decided that G. C. Olnhausen, a South Side plumbing contractor, was sane. He will be released today.

Olnhausen's attorney, A. G. Smith, in his address to the jury, claimed that Olnhausen's alleged delusions that certain persons were trying to make out a case of insanity against him, were realities, and not delusions at all. The defendant is worth about $25,000, and an effort to have a committee appointed to take charge of his estate has been successfully combated.

For several weeks hearings in the case of the commonwealth on behalf of Fredericka Olnhausen against G. C. Olnhausen, an inquiry into Olnhausen's sanity, have been going on before Commissioner Hugh M. Stilley. The jury consisted of Mr. Rodgers, father of Judge Rodgers, D. Howard Brown, John M. Petty, Charles Robb, Edward Goehring and T. Carlisle Moore. This was the second trial of the case, the jury having disagreed on the first trial.

Wife Started Proceedings.

The wife, who instituted the proceedings, alleged that her husband had a species of organic insanity known as "paranoia," taking the form of delusions that he is being persecuted. Olnhausen was confined in Marshalsea at the instance of his wife and two physicians, about one year ago, and has been trying to get his release ever since.

The physicians at the poor farm testified that he is insane, while all the attendants and the officer who took him from the Allegheny county jail to the department alleged he is perfectly sane. They were backed up in this by Dr. J. Milton Duff, Dr. C. C. Wylie and Dr. A. E. McCandless and a score of witnesses who have known him for years. Dr. Hersman, the committing physician, testified that Olnhausen had "paranoia."

Physicians Disagreed.

It was testified that certain persons, in order to get Olnhausen to Marshalsea, had him arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct and sent to the Allegheny county jail, after which he was taken to Marshalsea. Jail Physician Chessrown testified that Olnhausen had delusions, and was corroborated by Drs. Kerr of the South Side, Dr. Wilkins of Marshalsea, Dr. Carr, superintendent of Marshalsea, and Dr. Gundlach.

Dr. Wilkins acknowledged that Dr. Hersman came to him and told him he was afraid that Olnhausen would kill him, and requested his detention at Marshalsea. Mrs. Olnhausen's testimony was rejected by the commissioner on the ground that she was the wife and an interested person.

It was urged on the part of the commonwealth that Olnhausen was a dangerous man and had threatened to kill his wife. This was sworn to by Undertaker Semmelrock, but no testimony could be produced to show that he had ever committed any violent acts.

Brothers Were Contradictory.

Herman Olnhausen, a brother, took an active part for the commonwealth, alleging his brother was insane, talked to imaginary persons, and had not worked for several months. Other witnesses testified that Olnhausen had worked steadily until the day of his arrest. Another brother of Olnhausen's testified that he was sane.

Olnhausen, in his testimony, stated that he had private reasons for thinking that his wife was not faithful, but these reasons were not brought out. He said that he still believed that he was being persecuted.

The defendant was taken back to Marshalsea last night, but will be released on order of court today.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

The Promise Is Only Mildly Interesting in the Local Bill of Attractions.

Next Monday night "The Dean of the American Stage," Joseph Jefferson, begins his engagement at the Alvin theater, which is limited to one week, a fact which should not be forgotten. If you are ever asked to explain why it is that Mr. Jefferson is such a remarkable favorite, don't hunt around for obtuse reasons, but reply, "Because he employs the one touch of nature which makes everybody in this dear world of ours akin." You may call it art, call it magnetism, call it anything you like—it remains but the simple manliness of the man. Mr. Jefferson loves his art as he loves nature. He paints the one, portrays the other; none but a gentleman and a scholar could be all that he is. The repertoire this year includes "Rip Van Winkle," "The Rivals," "Cricket on the Hearth" and "Lend Me Five Shillings."

J. M. Barrie's most successful play, "The Little Minister," familiar to Pittsburgh theatergoers in novel form as well as a play, and which was so much in vogue at the Grand last season, where it enjoyed a run of 24 performances, will be revived at the same house next Monday, when the cast will be bright, amusing and up to date in pantomimic spectacle. The company is billed to appear at the Bijou theater the week of November 3, commencing with Monday matinee, and the patrons of that house will witness an organization which in every sense of the word meets the highest critical demands.

The offerings at the Empire theater next week will be Williams and Walker, under the direction of Hurtig & Seamon, with their latest production, entitled "In Dahomey." Williams and Walker have the reputation of being the kings of colored comedians and their whole ambition is to outdo their previous visit to any city, and as a consequence they have spared no expense or left no stone unturned to make this their banner production.

The unctuous Celtic comedienne, Maggie Cline, heads a great bill at the Avenue theater next week. In the same bill are Tom Bierce & Co. in Illusions; Jarrett & Althea, the most noted sharp shooters in the world; Emily Edwards, Morris & Bowen, Mansfield & Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry.

"Cleopatra," slightly different from the way Sardou wrote the great tragedy, will be presented at the Duquesne theater by Charles J. Ross and Mabel Fenton next week. Other vaudeville acts surrounding Ross and Fenton are Fredo and Forrest, tramp and soubrette, and Julian Rose, the Negress impersonator.

The Bowery Burlesquers, the big show of the season, will begin an engagement at the Academy next week. The olio with the Bowerys includes such artists as the Eretto family of acrobats, the Marvel Trojan trio, Gilbert and Goldie, Willie and Burrows, and Veola, the pretty and beautifully formed contortionist.

BESSEMER ROAD WILL BREAK ORE ★ TONNAGE RECORDS THIS YEAR

Before 1902 ends the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad will have hauled upward of 4,000,000 tons of iron ore to Pittsburgh. The figures may even be closer to 4,250,000 tons. All records have been broken and there is much yet to come. In 1901 the ore tonnage of the road was 3,602,000.

The insurance upon the lake vessels which transport this ore to Conneaut harbor, where the Bessemer receives it, will expire November 15, but if the weather allows the continuation of navigation, the ore vessels will be kept in the service to November 30. There is still much ore at the mines and the vessels can be used to advantage.

When the season closes there will be about 800,000 tons of ore upon the Bessemer docks at Conneaut. This will be brought to the furnaces in this vicinity as fast as needed, and all will be at the furnace storage yards by the time navigation is resumed next spring.

It is planned to bring fully 5,000,000 tons over the Bessemer next year. Allowing 50 tons to the car and 40 cars to the train, this means 100,000 cars, or seven of these great ore trains for every day in the year. As a matter of fact, it means about 15 of these trains daily during the summer months, with a correspondingly smaller number of trains and of less size for the winter months.

Eleven new consolidation locomotives were added to the service this year, and 10 of the same type have been ordered from the Pittsburgh works of the American Locomotive Company for 1903 delivery. The double-tracking of the Bessemer is to continue as fast as practicable, and the yards will be correspondingly enlarged. The North Bessemer yards of the company have within the year been increased to a much larger capacity.

It is the opinion of those most closely in touch with the lake ore trade, that a new line from Pittsburgh to Lake Erie is greatly needed, if that line will provide additional harbor facilities. The Lake Erie through the Lake Shore, the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio are all engaged in this lake to Pittsburgh ore traffic, but with all the facilities and all the harbors at their command they have been unable to supply the ore promptly and in large enough quantities for the increasing demand. A large number of new furnaces is being built. With these added there will come still greater demand for ore. The announced interest of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company in a new line for ore traffic is the direct result of the inability of the present roads to meet the demand.

SAME PASS RULES.

No New Restrictions Adopted by Western Railroad Executives.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—At a meeting of the executive officers of western and southwestern railways, the old agreement as to the issuance of passes to officials and employes of lines interested was practically reaffirmed. A committee of three was appointed to confer with trunk line officials on the anti-pass question as follows:

Darius Miller, vice president of the Burlington; J. D. Hanrahan, vice president of the Illinois Central, and A. C. Bird, vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

James V. Mahoney of Chicago was re-elected chairman of the western trunk lines committee, and the meeting adjourned to meet in St. Louis on December 2.

Trunk Lines Mileage Books Up.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A meeting of the general passenger agents of the trunk line railroads has been held here to consider the adoption of the interchangeable mileage ticket system for trunk line territory. The sub-committee appointed to devise a plan submitted its report, but the matter was considered of so great importance that it was decided to postpone final action on the matter, especially in view of the fact that some of the lines wish to give the matter further consideration. The subject will be considered at another meeting on Novemebr 11.

Baltimore & Ohio Conference.

A conference on the Pittsburgh plans of the Baltimore & Ohio lines was held in this city yesterday by Chief Engineer J. M. Graham of the Baltimore & Ohio; Assistant Chief Engineer Paul Didier, in charge of the Pittsburgh & Western's, and Robert Emmet, who has charge of the plans about the two cities, with the title of general agent.

CASSATT VIEWS POINT.

President Cassatt and others of the visiting Pennsylvania railroad officials yesterday morning tramped down Duquesne way from Tenth street, looking over the proposed location of the elevated track to be transferred from Liberty avenue to that thoroughfare. The site of the great warehouses to be built on the Schenley land bought by H. C. Frick for the Pennsylvania railroad was also inspected.

The presidential train had a busy forenoon before leaving for Cleveland at 11 o'clock. A trip was made as far as the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston junction over the main line and then the train doubled back to Pittsburgh over the Monongahela division and the Panhandle bridge. The improvements on the South Side and the rebuilding of the Panhadle bridge were closely inspected. After a short stop at the Union station, which has been completed since the last visits of these officials, the trip to Cleveland was started.

General Manager J. B. Hutchinson, with General Superintendent G. W. Creighton of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division, left the party here and went to Buffalo. They will join the others at Buffalo, where the party will be in a day or two.

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh official party, headed by President A. G. Yates, who spent Tuesday night here, started yesterday morning on the return to headquarters.

Railroad Notes.

President N. P. Ramsey of the Pittsburgh, Toledo & Western, was in Pittsburgh yesterday.

The Pensylvania has awarded to C. A. Sims & Co. of Philadelphia the contract for grading and masonry on the Erie & Pittsburgh division between Sharon and Harbor Bridge.

It is announced that most of the officials of the now defunct Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking will be provided with new positions under the reorganization by which the Pennsylvania and the Reading divide the road.

Chief Clerk W. T. Lechlider of the Baltimore & Ohio general superintendent's office, accompanied by William C. Drake of the office force, left last night for Baltimore to attend the time card meeting of the system there today.

General Superintendent J. B. Yohe, General Freight Agent Frank A. Dean and General Passenger Agent L. A. Robison of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, will leave for Cleveland this morning to attend the funeral of the late P.S. Blodgett, general manager of the Lake Shore.

S. H. Church, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania lines, returned yesterday from Cincinnati, where he attended a meeting of stockholders of the Cincinnati, Lebanon & Northern, a Pennsylvania line. The meeting authorized the issuance of $1,500,000 bonds to cover the purchase of the old Middletown railroad, acquired by the Pensylvania interests several months ago.

IT IS DOUBTFUL

If Local Applications Alone Ever Cured a Case of Catarrh.

Most remedies for the treatment of catarrh are in the form of sprays, inhalers, powders, washes or salves, all purely local applications, and many of them often give temporary relief, but the reason none of them ever really cure chronic catarrh is because catarrh is not a local disease and it cannot be cured simply by treating the local symptoms.

Moreover, the more serious forms of catarrh, like catarrh of the stomach and catarrh of the bronchial tubes, cannot be reached at all by local applications, and the fact that neglected catarrh of the head very soon involves the bronchial tubes, stomach and liver, demonstrates that the disease is a blood disorder, a constitutional malady, and not at all a local disease.

To really cure catarrh the system must be cleansed from catarrhal poison by an internal remedy which acts effectively upon the blood and liver.

The success of a new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is because it drives out of the system, through natural channels, the catarrhal poison and the mucous lining of the nose, throat and trachea are freed from the excessive mucous which collects and causes the hawking, spitting and gagging, because the excessive secretion is not furnished from healthy blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain many of the same valuable antiseptics used in sprays and inhalers, but instead of being applied to the inflamed membranes of the nose and throat they are taken into the stomach and thus reach the blood, the real seat and cause of the disease.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, composed of Red Gum, Hydrastin, Bloodroot, and similar catarrh specifics, and so safe to use that little children suffering from colds take them with same beneficial results as adult persons.

No trace of cocaine or opiates, so common in catarrh medicines, can be found in Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Mellor's Sell the Best Pianos, but Some Are Very Moderate in Price.

No one should get the impression, simply because Mellor's sell the Steinway piano, that they don't have pianos at lower prices. The fact that they control the sale of the Steinway in this territory merely shows their leadership, and is in itself a sufficient guarantee of the character of the rest of the stock. Inasmuch as all other pianos are measured by the Steinway, it follows that Mellor's have to be particularly careful in the selection of those pianos which make up the remainder of their stock.

Anyone contemplating the purchase of a piano should always bear in mind that Mellor's have instruments of all classes, and that persons who wish to spend a very modest sum can do better here than elsewhere. This fact is apparent to anyone who looks over the names of the instruments sold exclusively by Mellor's.

One of these is the Krakauer, a piano which is distinctly high-class and which meets the requirements of all classes of musical people. And the price at which as most persons who can afford a really good instrument feel justified in paying. The Mason & Hamlin is another piano of national reputation. In fact, it is too well known to require any extended comment. And wherever the name is mentioned in musical circles, it is admitted to be one of the foremost instruments of the day. Its reputation has been honestly won and is sustained by the determination on the part of the manufacturers to make it even better, if possible, as the years go by. The Ludwig and the Chauncey are pianos whose sterling worth and modest prices make them popular everywhere. They have many distinctive qualities. One of the things which cause the Chauncey in particular to find favor with parents is its remarkable durability. Children are naturally hard on an instrument, and the Chauncey is peculiarly a home piano by reason of its sweet tone and its ability to withstand hard usage.

Small musical goods, such as phonographs, music boxes, etc., are shown in unexampled variety at Mellor's and prices are always consistently moderate.

Don't hesitate to send for any desired information pertaining to musical merchandise. Your inquiries will be cheerfully responded to and catalogues of any goods about which you wish to know will be furnished upon application.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Many oddities are to be found in campaign literature, but that issued by the so-called Ballot Reform party is the most curious specimen of the sort that has ever appeared in a Pittsburgh campaign. It is inscribed "Ballot Reform," "Initiative," "Referendum," "Personal Registration," but the contents are mainly a eulogy of our old, familiar friend, the Hon. William Flinn. There is an effigiac flavor to the narrative given of his public services under the caption, "A Glorious Record." It is admitted that "to err is human and necessarily in 25 years some mistakes have been made," and it is stated that "Senator Flinn recently retired from active political leadership," but all through the chant of eulogy runs the refrain, "Flinn, Flinn, he wants to get in." The gist of the argument is that the great Flinn is down on Senator Quay, and hence voters should cast their ballots for Pattison, and that, as the ring county ticket also represents the great Flinn, voters should cast their ballots for that, too, and the "Ballot Reform" ticket is there for that purpose. Col. J. M. Guffey, national committeeman of the Democratic party, is denounced by name as an unsafe leader of the Democracy, and Democrats are advised to repudiate him and accept the great Flinn's leadership. It was perfectly well known before that the "Ballot Reform" ticket was a Flinn maneuver, but the candid avowal made in its own literature that it represents Flinn was unexpected.

One of the hardy assertions made in the campaign literature of the "Ballot Reform" party is that "Pittsburgh is one of the best governed cities in the world." This is presented as one of the Flinn claims to support, but whatever present credit is due on that score belongs to Gov. Stone, for he is the present head of the municipal administration. The inertness and apathy which marks the official behavior of Recorder Brown is in such marked contrast with the known energy of his character that it has excited wondering comment, and the explanation forthcoming is that the head of the important department of public works is Gov. Stone's personal appointment, and that in general the municipal administration represents Gov. Stone. Hence, Recorder Brown, although bound by the conditions of his own appointment to serve as Stone's agent, is not averse to letting it be known by his demeanor that his authority is but nominal. This also is why it is that the "Muddy Water" end of the ring campaign organized by Flinn is more active than the regular organization under Recorder Brown. The ring county ticket is the tag end of the Flinn-Stone deal of which the appointment of Recorder Brown was an incident. Recorder Brown got his medicine in the municipal election, and how the rest of the deal fares is much more Flinn's concern than Recorder Brown's.

The insult and violence offered to the Fourteenth regiment in passing the new Farmers bank building is an incident which true friends of labor interests will deplore. Animosity against the National Guard discredits the cause of labor, for since all that the Guard does is to repress riot and disorder, feeling against it implies approval of riot and disorder. It would be unfair to accept such manifestations as indicating the general attitude of labor. It is well known that entire companies of the National Guard on duty in the anthracite region were wholly composed, officers and men, of striking miners, and all observers agree that they did their duty as soldiers faithfully and well. The regiment which was subjected to cowardly outrage in its own city was treated with kindness and respect in the regions where they were on duty, and their service there was in support of principles which President Mitchell constantly advocated. The rowdyism which arises in the wake of labor disturbance is the greatest difficulty with which labor leaders have to contend in the management of a strike, and had the spirit evinced in this city yesterday morning been general it would have defeated the anthracite strike. The secret of the triumph it scored in compelling recognition of the miners' demands is that sympathetic strikes were avoided, contracts respected, and the contrast between conditions in regions where the union was recognized and conditions where it was not was impressed upon the public to the credit and advantage of the miners' organization.

President Roosevelt sets an example in his Thanksgiving proclamation of the brevity he advises in state documents. He recites the guidance of God throughout the history of the nation, makes especial reference to the material prosperity of the present and invites the people to properly express their thankfulness for multifold blessings. The message is devout in tone, direct and simple. The individual citizen is left to elaborate the causes of his personal thanksgiving. Each may surely find them ample. The nation as a whole certainly has reason to be thankful that prosperity has brought wealth and that enlightened sentiment is manifest in a constantly growing tendency to use that wealth for the advancement of mankind in knowledge and righteousness.

This custom of appointing a day each year for general thanksgiving originated with the Puritan fathers. Even in their austere life those pioneers found causes to acknowledge the mercies of Providence, chief among them the right to worship God according to the dictates of their consciences, in the new land. How much more reason have we to be thankful in this age. The right to worship is free from even the Puritan restrictions; the forbidding wilderness has been converted into the land of plenty, flowing with milk and honey; the future is full of promise of material growth, acquisition of knowledge and increase of righteousness.

Returning to the president, it may be said that one of the courses of his popularity is that his example conforms to his precept. What he advises other men to do, that he would do himself. He is in his own person the incarnation of that American citizenship which he appeals for. Ready to serve his country in war or in peace; prepared to combat tyrrany, corruption or injustice. Active, alert, forceful, determined. He believes in deeds rather than words, and he will ever be remembered for what he has done more than for what he has said. His request for brevity in state papers, which advice he follows, is the natural desire of a man of action.

SUPPORT THE PRESIDENT.

President Roosevelt is before the people in the election of Tuesday next in the person of each Republican candidate for congress. A vote for a Republican for congress is a vote for the president. A vote against a Republican for congress is a vote against the president. In Allegheny county, in which only Republicans are running for congress, every vote cast for a candidate for congress will be a vote in support of the president. But all over the state, in every congressional district where there are contests, it ought to be the object of Republicans to increase the Republican majorities, to thus emphasize the confidence his party has in the president and to show the strength of the popular approval of his course. In no place in the state is there menace to success of efforts to send men to congress to support the president, except in the Twenty-fourth district, where an unfortunate chain of circumstances kept the name of the rightful nominee out of the party column, and in the Twenty-third district, where a special effort has been made to induce the workingmen of the coke region to believe that their interests are in some way identified with the candidacy of a supporter of the Cleveland policies that shut down the coke ovens after the election of 1892 and left workmen without work or wages. The Republicans elsewhere look to Republicans in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth congressional districts to send Republicans to congress to vote for prosperity, for protection to American labor and industry, and for the measure the president will submit to regulate the trusts. With a man in the White House looking out for the interests of the people, the people ought to send men to congress to help him do it. The ending of the anthracite coal strike shows what Roosevelt can and will do. On Tuesday let the people strengthen his hands by electing to congress men who will stand with him for the popular welfare, instead of men who will be against him and whose efforts will be directed to hampering him.

Republicans in the Twenty-fourth congressional district have need to remember that in marking their ballots to vote the entire Republican ticket they must put a cross mark in the circle above the Republican column, and then put a cross mark after the name of Ernest F. Acheson, which will be found by itself in another column under the head of "Regular." Mr. Acheson received a majority of 7,000 votes for the nomination for congress at the Republican primaries in the district. His majority was much larger than the whole vote in opposition. In other words, he received considerably more than twice as many votes as were cast against him—considerably more than two-thirds of the entire vote recorded. Mr. Acheson is, therefore, the undoubted choice of the Republican party of the district for congress. It is only a technicality that kept his name out of the party column on the official ballot. These facts have been stated for the information of the voters before, but they will bear reiteration. It is important that a Republican shall be elected to represent the Twenty-fourth district in congress. It is a Republican district and under ordinary circumstances there would be no danger to Republican representation. But the existing condition is extraordinary, and Republicans must deal with it as such. It is the duty of every Republican in the district who wants to support President Roosevelt (and who does not?) to put a cross mark after Acheson's name. The policies the president is advocating can be made effective only by congressional action. One vote in congress may mean much, and to insure that one vote each elector must do his part. Other states may fall in their whole duty in support of the president, but Pennsylvania should not. It would be unfortunate were it to falter by reducing its natural representation of Republicans in congress even by one. It ought to win Democratic districts instead.

Pennsylvania also wants to see the Hon. John Dalzell elected speaker of the next national house of representatives, to co-operate as the representative of the whole state as well as of his district, with the president in the furtherance of his national policies, but Pennsylvania cannot well ask this honor if she fails to give to President Roosevelt the full measure of support that he has a right to expect from her. Let there be no weakening now.

HOW NOLAN LET THE CAT OUT.

It has been said of Mr. Nolan, the Democratic nominee for secretary of internal affairs, that he says what he thinks regardless of consequences. During the earlier stages of the campaign Mr. Nolan was the last speaker of the Democratic trio, but this, it seems, was not found to work well, and Mr. Nolan is now placed first on the list with the object in view, possibly, of effacing the impression his remarks may make. Mr. Nolan's speeches are not long, but he comes directly to the point and makes his meaning clear. It has been the chief effort of the Democratic managers, anticipating even the Erie convention, to keep national politics out of all their discussions in Pennsylvania. Pattison and Guthrie have carefully adhered to this program. It must have therefore jarred them and National Committeeman Guffey when Mr. Nolan, at the meetings at Pottsville and elsewhere, endeavored in his impulsive way, by citing his own prosperity as proof, to convince his audience that Cleveland times are the best times. Mr. Nolan declared that more prosperity came his way when Cleveland was president than at any time in his career. Now, Mr. Nolan is a wealthy man, and if he made more money in Cleveland times than in other times the workingmen who made less money then than they ever made would like to know about it. Mr. Nolan was a contractor, we believe, who built railroads and had other contracts that involved the employment of men who work with picks and shovels—unskilled labor for the most part. Was it by getting his labor cheap that he made so much money during Cleveland times? Does he want a return of Cleveland times so that he can do it again? Workingmen then had to work for little or not at all. They would have to do it again in the event of a return of Cleveland times. It might be profitable for Mr. Nolan, but how about the workingman?

However, Mr. Nolan's inadvertence shows where the Democratic campaigners really stand. They are for a return of Cleveland times. The first step in the program for a return of these times is to capture Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania cannot be captured by preaching Democratic doctrine. That is why Democratic doctrine has not been preached by the Democratic spellbinders. But if they could capture Pennsylvania by some other means it would be heralded as a Democratic triumph, and dating therefrom Democratic doctrine would be preached and everybody would be told that it was because the people of Pennsylvania liked Democratic doctrine that they elected a Democratic state ticket. The mischief would be then done for the people and couldn't be easily undone. It must have been very annoying to former Gov. Pattison to have Mr. Nolan disclose the program, and it must have been a shock to Col. Guffey when he read of it. But it is a useful pointer to the people, who remember the empty pocketbooks, empty larders, empty dinner pails and empty stomachs of the Cleveland times. Messrs. Pattison, Guthrie and Nolan are trying to head them that way again, but Pattison and Guthrie are trying to conceal the fact. As for Nolan, he would probably like to add further to his wealth, even if the people did suffer, and in joyful contemplation of that cheerful possibility permitted the fullness of his heart to escape for publication. And, though he spoke first, according to the new order of speaking, what the others who came after him said could not efface the impression he made.

IMMIGRATION ABUSES.

A special report from Robert Watchorn, dated at Paris, fully confirms the suspicion of extensive evasion of the United States immigration laws. The method is to send the emigrants from European ports to Canada, from whence they manage to slip across the border. Mr. Watchorn has discovered numerous agencies in southern Europe where this traffic is encouraged, the undesirable classes being carefully instructed by them how to proceed in order to get into the United States without inspection. It has long been understood that Chinese have been finding their way to this country through Canada, and for some time it has been suspected that even less desirable Europeans have been using the same gateway. Mr. Watchorn was sent by the immigration bureau to investigate and his inquiry has been fruitful.

The remedy is not as easy as the discovery of the facts, but there are two ways to lessen the evil. One is more careful examination of persons coming from Canada; the other is the extension of our foreign supervision. A method of consular inspection has been advocated for years as the surest means of excluding undesirable immigrants. But in this phase of the matter it is consular espionage of emigration to Canada and Mexico that is necessary. With full information concerning the emigrants who depart from European ports for the two countries named there will be reasonable opportunity to intercept such as try to pass through to this country.

This matter of evasion of the laws emphasizes the necessity for comprehensive legislation. The act vetoed by Cleveland when he was president, had it become law, would have excluded many persons who have proven detrimental to the country. The act now pending before congress as a part of the unfinished business of the long session contains provisions of great value. To these should be added sections to govern the smuggling over the Canadian border, and then the bill should be passed. The United States will always be an asylum for the politically oppressed, and for many years yet will offer inducements to the honest immigrant who is seeking wider opportunity for his industry. But the doors cannot be closed too soon against anarchists, criminals and the derelicts of society generally. There is no place in this broad land for people who are either unwilling to or incapable of adding something to the peaceable development of its resources, or who will not become good citizens.

NO SECRET ABOUT IT.

A tremendous sensation was made of certain sinking fund operations by the Democratic press yesterday. The whole story consisted of the discovery of an alleged secret sale of government bonds by the sinking fund commissioners, coupled with the charge that the money was wanted for the use of state depositories. The sensation was shortlived. Gov. Stone, in a public speech last evening, explained the whole transaction. There was no secret about it. Government 4 per cents of 1907 to the amount of $2,750,000 were sold and the proceeds devoted to the purchase of Pennsylvania state bonds maturing in 1912. These are 3½ and 4 per cent bonds. In other words, the securities in the sinking fund were devoted to their ultimate purpose of extinguishing the state debt. Any one familiar with financial matters capable of a simple mathematical computation can figure out the profit to the state in the transaction, and it needs no philosopher to appreciate the advantage of having the funds invested for the full time on good terms instead of carrying cash for five years or making a forced reinvestment in 1907. This is an example of the exaggeration that is in the Democratic campaign traducing the state.

Judge Pennypacker continues to take a cheerful view of the condition of his native state, and he has a right to take a similarly hopeful view of the result of the campaign. On the other hand the Democratic candidate is naturally pessimistic on both subjects.

The celebration of "Mitchell day" in the anthracite coal region has a significance for the mine operators if they are capable of interpreting it. Mitchell has too strong a hold upon the men in the mines to be ignored with any advantage to the owners.

Police magistrates are now receiving some attention. As in every other department of city government the corrupting influence of the machine has been exerted upon the business of these officials.

A new hospital is planned for the site of the old orphan asylum in Tannehill street and the object is a worthy one. It is to be for women and children exclusively, an institution long needed.

With a record of 100,000 car loads of ore from Lake Erie to Pittsburgh, the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad appears to be a factor in preventing complete stagnation in the local freight movement.

Pittsburgh gave the visiting scientists a cordial welcome yesterday, and demonstrated that along with her abundant industrial arts the city has the art of graceful hospitality down to a science.

Hensel's senatorial apportionment is much worse than the one Candidate Guthrie refused to make. In fact, it is an apt illustration of the difficulties of the situation.

President Roosevelt's accumulation of birthdays will soon take all the point out of the charge that he is too young to be president.

Gen. Uribe-Uribe is a prisoner and the government of Colombia will now proceed to unhyphenate him.

It is not always certain that the fellow who carries a transparency will vote according to its motto.

Riding in a refrigerator car ought to bring back memories of 1856 and 1900 to W. J. Bryan.

According to the New York courts it is now "Victory" Herbert; and "the band plays on."

The "beautiful snow" arrived in time to take a ride on the open trolley cars.

What He Might Suggest.

From the Washington Post.

Mr. Cleveland wants the Democrats to drive in the outposts. He might also suggest that they drive out the lecturers and publishers.

ODELL AND PLATT POLITELY MEET

No Hand Shaking, Neither Any Squabble to Encourage the Enemy.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.

Gov. Odell arrived in New York from Binghamton today, and he looks like a winner. His throat is sore from overwork, and he will rest it until tomorrow evening, when he is scheduled to deliver three speeches in this city. He will not talk much about the probable outcome of the election, except to repeat what he has maintained all along, that there will be a big Republican victory to record next Tuesday. The mud-slinging of D. B. Hill has not affected him, so far as his spirits are concerned, for he is as smiling and hearty as ever. He will not talk about the charges brought against him by the former governor, because he feels that he has replied to them effectively, a feeling in which the city as a whole entirely agrees. When Gov. Odell and T. C. Platt met accidentally in the office of Col. Dunn this morning they greeted each other politely, but not cordially, nor did they shake hands. They have not quite forgiven each other for certain utterances several weeks ago, but both are too much men of the world to allow private differences to interfere with public interests. There will be no stories of squabbles between prominent men to get out for the edification of the foe. It seems as if both sides are resting on their arms tonight, waiting for the Republican rally tomorrow evening. There is every indication that it will be more enthusiastic than the Democratic demonstration on Monday, and it is believed by Gov. Odell and his supporters that more real weight will attach to it than accompanied the red fire and rocket excitement which marked David B. Hill's effort at Madison Square garden. There will be plenty of Republican fireworks—in fact, the city is expected to be ablaze from Cooper union to the Battery—but solid arguments from the platform will be the agencies most depended on. It will be a tremendous political field night, with every gun in action.

Color Has a Bodyguard.

Bird S. Coler is regarded by his Democratic supporters as too important a figure just now that he must have a body guard; so big Felix McCluskey, for 40 years sergeant-at-arms at Washington, is always close behind him whenever he appears in public.

Jack Frost Shorn of His Terrors.

New York has a touch of frost tonight. The cold wave has been sweeping this way for 24 hours, and it has reached here with nipping eagerness. Overcoats are generally worn, while furs and heavy wraps are on feminine shoulders on Broadway so numerously as to set one's thoughts toward Thanksgiving and make one feel that winter is nearly here. Happily, there is no particular worry about coal. Anthracite has been coming into the city steadily since the miners went to work nearly a week ago, and the price is not so much above the normal as to trouble the average New Yorker. One does not hear any complaints about the scarcity of coal now, and although Jack Frost has dropped in on us with vigor, he will not cause the suffering that would have attended his advent a month ago. It is even said that there was a snowfall in this city about the middle of the day, but it seems to have been only official from the weather department. It was not seen by the man in the street.

Molineux Expects to Be Free Sunday.

At last the prosecution in the Molineux case has reached the end of its presentation, and that without fastening the crime on the defendant, in the general opinion. Molineux smiled as he walked out of court to cross the Bridge of Sighs. He evidently believed that he would not spend many Sunday nights in the Tombs. What the jury thinks of the case can be only conjectured. It will not surprise anyone outside if Molineux walks out a free man before Sunday, as he is reported to have said he will.

Champagne Drouth Threatened.

There is sadness in Broadway tonight. The champagne crop this year is a failure, according to reports coming from France. There may be an increase in the price of some of the special brands of champagne in New York, it is said, and it is possible that all brands will go up before the end of the winter.

Fistic Earnings.

A group of sporting men in Broadway this evening was talking about the earnings of boxers in these days, when there are such stringent laws against the pugilistic game in New York and many other states. One said that pugilists of reputation managed to make more money than they could acquire from working in the rapid transit subway or carrying the hod. As an instance, he cited "Young Corbett," whose earnings, from exhibitions of boxing in the last month, reached the sum of $4,000. If the Horton law were repealed, he would be able to make much more than this in one night.

New Theater Unpopular With Players.

Grayce Scott, who was a favorite member of the Pittsburgh Grand stock company a few years ago, has resigned from Mrs. Robert Osborn's playhouse, where she has been playing an ingenue part in "Tommy Rot." This is the third resignation from the company since it opened on Monday week, and Mrs. Osborn intimates that she expects others to follow. The peculiar feature of these defections is that no particular reason is given for them except that the performers do not seem to like their jobs. Meanwhile, the theater remains open, and Mrs. Osborn says "Tommy Rot" is on for a run. Miss Norma Munro, daughter of Norman Munro, the well-known publisher, is said to be financially interested in the playhouse, and occasionally takes a hand in its active management.

Statues Mingled With Posies.

The New York Florists' club has hit upon an original idea to make their annual exhibition at Madison Square garden more than ordinarily interesting. In addition to their plants and flowers, they will have a display of statuary. That is to say, they have got the National Sculpture society to join with them in renting the big garden, and there will be samples of sculpture, as fine as any in the country, stationed artistically amid the wealth of orchids, roses, chrysanthemums, carnations and offerings of the florists. The flower show is always well attended, and it is certain that many Pittsburghers will come down to see what the New York florists have to show this year.

Drunkards Lose Legal Rights.

If Howard Gould's former valet, Frank D. Mowbray, had not been addicted to drink he might have won his suit for $25,000 damages against Mr. Gould for the loss of an eye; but the jury brought in a verdict against the valet at noon today. In his charge Justice Truax of the supreme court, one of the most eminent jurists in the country, said definitely that the defendant (Howard Gould) "had a right to discharge him if he was drunk. If you find that the defendant was discharged for being drunk, he cannot recover." And he did not recover. Is not this a powerful, though brief, temperance lesson?

Actors Honor Bishop Potter.

Bishop Potter was today re-elected president of the Actors' Church alliance in this city. The bishop has been at the head of this association since its establishment a few years ago, and always manifests a great deal of personal interest in it. It is seldom, indeed, that he walks along upper Broadway. Otherwise, he would, doubtless, find himself as popular along the Rialto as he is in the drawing rooms of Fifth avenue.

A Hope For More School Room.

Owing to the abolition of the state tax by Gov. Odell, taxation in this city is materially reduced this fall, while the president of the board of estimates and apportionment has been able to grant more than $20,000,000 for educational purposes. Surely, with this enormous sum, it should be possible for the board of education to find sufficient room in the schools for all the children entitled to a free education. This is the ultimate purpose of the board, but it may take some time to get the money on hand properly applied. Meanwhile, there are many expressions of satisfaction tonight that the tax rate has been lowered a little, even though it is only four points.

Anthracite Once More Familiar.

A familiar sight in all the railroad yards around New York city, particularly on the Jersey side of the North river, is a vast collection of open freight cars laden with anthracite. Coal is coming into New York at the rate of about 250,000 tons a day, and most of it is brought into the railroad yards in Jersey City. A month ago a carload of hard coal was rare enough to attract curious attention. Today no one thinks anything of a dozen trainloads. Coal looks as if it would soon be a drug in the market, judging by what one sees at the railroad termini every day.

Dramatic Moment In a Quiet Place.

The idler in upper Broadway can always be sure that he will see something to amuse him in the course of any afternoon or evening, if he keeps his eyes open. The Marlborough hotel is a favorite lounging place of men who have no particular business for a few minutes, or who may have an appointment with some acquaintance. Usually, everything is quiet there and one does not expect to be brought into contact with the strenuous life if one stays all day; but this afternoon there was bustle enough to suit the most persistent curiosity-monger. Half a dozen detectives of determined aspect suddenly swept through the office and brought three prisoners out of the adjoining cafe before their object was suspected. The prisoners, all well dressed and prosperous looking, were charged with "wire-tapping," a form of swindling in connection with horse racing that has become familiar to all readers of the newspapers of late. They are all in jail tonight. The incident shows that no matter how quiet may be the resort into which one drops along the "Great White Way," there is a possibility of dramatic movement at any moment.

Tried Suicide With His Coat.

Here is another wrinkle in suicide. A bartender in the prison pen of the Yorkville police court this afternoon, charged with drunkenness, hanged himself to a nail by his coat tails. He had tied the sleeves around his neck. A policeman came in and cut him down, but was in a quandary for an instant as to what part of the coat to cut, the tails or the sleeves. The bartender will recover but the coat is ruined.

A Queer Freak of Sentimentality.

A curious development of the morbid interest awakened by sensational murder cases was witnessed in the criminal court building this morning. While the Molineux trial was in progress a gentlemanly young man, accompanied by a fashionably-dressed young woman, asked the policeman at the door of the court room if the chaplain of the Tombs, the Rev. Mr. Monroe, was inside. The doorkeeper said no. Then the young woman said that she and her companion wanted to be married in the corridor, close to the court room, while Molineux was on trial for his life, because it would be "so romantic." She confessed that it was her idea, and not of her fiance. The doorkeeper, who was lacking in sentiment, merely told the couple to "g'wan," and they went, saying that they would be married somewhere today, if not in the court house.

Pittsburgh Phil's Acquisition.

"Pittsburgh Phil" will have Willie Shaw, the small jockey, in his employ next year again. The boy is said to have had a big offer to ride in Russia, but prefers to stay with the Pittsburgher. Sporting men here say that the lad's salary will not be less than $12,000 a year. This is not such bad pay for a boy who, in any other line of work, probably would command from $5 to $5 a week. Still, if he can earn $1,000 a month for his employer all the year around, with a big percentage on top of that, it is good business to give him the $12,000—and "Pittsburgh Phil" is a business man before all.

Gambling Joint Fortified With Steel.

A steel-clad gambling house is the latest thing in New York night life. There is a fashionable house in Thirty-third street where it is said one of the biggest games in the metropolis can be found by the initiated, which is conducted by men who know all the tricks of the profession. They have just had steel shutters fastened to the windows and a steel-protected roof exit constructed, while a massive steel porch is being put up at the front door. The porch was imported from France. The police have been rather too inquisitive lately, it seems, having raided five gambling houses in the course of last week. They will find it difficult to get into this place, unless they batter it down with 12-inch guns.

From the San Francisco Call.

In the present instance there seem but two points of interest outside of speculation as to which yacht will win. The first is the claim made that the cup should be open to all competitors, as it was when won by the America, and not confined, as now, to a competition between one challenging yacht and a yacht chosen as a defender by the New York Yacht club. This point was raised by the Boston Yacht club, whose members wished a chance to compete in the last race. Public sentiment was with the Bostonians at that time, and there is hardly likely to have been any change since. It is well known that the cup was put up originally as a trophy in an open regatta, and there are good reasons why it should be again offered in the same way. Certainly New York has no right to arbitrarily shut out all other American yacht clubs while claiming to hold the cup as a symbol of the championship of the world.

That Socialistic Plank.

From the Denver Republican.

There is no apathy on the Democratic party in Ohio. The sensible members of the party are so stirred up about D. B. Hill's socialistic coal plank in the party platform that they are going to vote the Republican ticket.

PERSONAL.

Two distinguished labor leaders arrived in the city last night from England and are at the Seventh Avenue hotel. One is E. Edwards, justice of the peace, city councilor and ex-mayor of Burslem and treasurer of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain. His home is in Burslem, Staffordshire. The other is Mathew Arrandale, justice of the peace, city councilor of Manchester, general secretary of the United Machine Workers association in the United Kingdom. They are delegates from the British Trades Union congress to the 22d annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which meets in New Orleans November 10. In speaking of the condition of united labor in Great Britain Mr. Arrandale said: "Our organization is in excellent condition and general peace prevails. Our employers have fully recognized our rights to organize." Mr. Edwards said: "The miners of Great Britain number 350,000 and the organization is on a firm footing and our treasury is filled to overflowing. The English miners cabled President Mitchell $25,000 two weeks ago to maintain the strike in the anthracite coal country."

THE DEATH ROLL.

Colonel Smith's Funeral.

Arrangements for the funeral of Col. Norman M. Smith were completed yesterday afternoon. When the first section of the Eighteenth Infantry arrived in Lewistown a telegram was received by Lieut. Col. Kay, announcing the death of Col. Smith. This message was rewired to Col. Rutledge, who tendered the family the sympathy and service of his regiment. The family decided the funeral should not be a military one. All arrangements were left in the hands of Col. Chambers McKibbin, a former colonel of the Eighteenth. Eight sergeants of the line will be active pallbearers. They will be selected from the senior sergeants of the regiment, and as far as possible men who served when Col. Smith commanded the regiment. A firing squad will meet the funeral party at the cemetery and will accompany the body to its final resting place. Taps will be sounded and the regulation three volleys fired over the grave of the hero of two wars. Services will be held in Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, Penn avenue and Station street, East End, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The officers and men of the Eighteenth infantry desired to attend the funeral as a regiment, but Mrs. Smith decided that the less display would be in harmony with the wishes of her husband. The honorary pallbearers are Col. Chambers McKibbin, the Rev. Matthew A. Riddle, D. D., and Col. H. F. Jennings of the Loyal legion; Thomas F. Maple, Samuel W. Hay, Orin M. Head and James Blackstone of the Grand Army of the Republic; Col. Frank I. Rutledge, Lieut. Col. J. Conrad Kay and Gen. John A. Wyllie of the Eighteenth regiment. Lieut. T. T. Brown of Gen. Wiley's staff will represent the Second regiment. Aside from the representatives of military orders, the interment will be private.

Thomas W. Sharp Buried.

The funeral of Former Burgess Thomas W. Sharp, whose death occurred about midnight Sunday, took place yesterday afternoon at Brighton. Services were held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mr. Sharp was a member for 34 years, a trustee for 26 years and treasurer for 25 years. The Rev. W. P. Turner, D. D., the pastor, delivered an address, and the eulogy was pronounced by the Rev. Thomas H. Wilkinson, D. D., of Bellevue, associate editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, a life-long friend of the deceased and a former pastor of the church at Braddock. About 100 members of Braddock's Field lodge No. 610, Free and Accepted Masons, and members of the old Braddock Volunteer fire department attended. The Rev. Edwin M. Bowden, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church, Braddock, conducted services at Monongahela cemetery for the Masonic fraternity.

Mrs. W. H. Brunt.

Hamilton Brunt, assistant treasurer of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, died last night at the family residence, No. 201 Stratford avenue, East End, after an illness of two weeks. She was a singer of unusual talent and was for some years one of the soloists in the Mozart club. She was also prominent in the Tuesday Musical club. Since her marriage Mrs. Brunt has been a member of the Bellefield Presbyterian church. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Beatrice.

He was a native of Galway, Ireland, and for 40 years a resident of this city. Many of the handsome residences in the East End were erected under his supervision. He was a member of the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, East End, and is survived by his wife and five children: The Rev. Father Patrick J. Hesson of Latrobe, Paul, Mary, Alice and Francesca, all of this city; also by one sister, Mrs. Mary McCarthy, and a brother, S. Hesson, of this city.

WHEN BEECHER CRAVED A FAVOR

Helped the Democrats and Secured an Humble Position for a Friend.

In reply to a criticism of Bird S. Coler for having visited him in the auction room in Willoughby street, Hugh McLaughlin told this story, says the New York Herald:

"They say Mr. Coler visited me in what they call the 'junk shop,' and they ask if Tilden, or Seymour, or Cleveland ever visited me in a junk shop. I wonder what they would say if I told them that Henry Ward Beecher visited me in a Willoughby street junk shop to ask a political favor?

"It is true, nevertheless. Mr. Beecher had supported Mr. Whitney, our candidate for mayor, and after the election, one day, he walked in to see me. We shook hands and sat down, and he said:

"'Mr. McLaughlin, I have done considerable for the Democratic ticket this fall, have made speeches and used my influence in behalf of Mr. Whitney, and I think I am entitled to some consideration from the Democratic party.'

PARTY IN BUCKS AND MONTGOMERY

Pennypacker Arouses Tremendous Enthusiasm in Both Counties.

WANGER GOES WITH HIM

Next Governor Shows That the Vital Issues Are to Be Fought Out in the City of Washington—In Berks Today.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NORRISTOWN, PA., Oct. 29.—After his splendid reception in the Democratic counties of Lehigh and Northampton, the Republican candidate for governor today received the enthusiastic congratulations of his neighbors in Bucks and Montgomery counties. Although the Bucks county meeting was held early in the afternoon, closely followed by one of the Montgomery county meetings, there was a good attendance at both. In fact the meeting held here tonight was a magnificent demonstration. The whole town was wild with enthusiasm.

The great Rink building was packed to the doors and an overflow meeting was in full blast outside. The streets were crowded with cheering Republicans. A dozen clubs of this town and as many more from surrounding towns in the county, marched through a long line of red fire and blazing pyrotechnics, shouting for Pennypacker, Brown, Wanger and the whole ticket. It was like an old-fashioned presidential campaign demonstration, and the leaders were justified in predicting a solid Republican majority in Montgomery county for the whole Republican ticket.

The gubernatorial party first visited Doylestown, Bucks county, where, after a reception at the court house, Judge Pennypacker was given an ovation at a largely-attended meeting, over which the well-known Independent Republican lawyer, Hugh B. Eastburn, presided, and at which Judge Pennypacker's old friend, the Democratic war horse of the county, Gen. W. H. H. Davis, was a conspicuous participant.

After addresses had been made by Judge Pennypacker, Congressman Wanger and ex-District Attorney Shaffer the party took a train for Lansdale, Montgomery county, where another big meeting in the opera house vigorously applauded the candidate and other speakers.

The party then left for Norristown, Montgomery county, where the gubernatorial candidate was received with cheers and given a reception at the Montgomery house, where he was joined by ex-Senator William M. Brown, who had been called to Philadelphia in the morning on important business. Along the route to the meeting in the Rink building the candidates were vigorously cheered and the enthusiasm broke loose in the meeting as each speaker was introduced.

Irving P. Knight presided over the meeting and speeches were made by the candidate for governor and lieutenant governor, Adjt.-Gen. Stewart, J. P. Hale Jenkins, ex-District Attorney Shaffer and District Attorney Hendricks. Among other things Judge Pennypacker said:

"While the control of the state is of consequence, after all the principles which established and determined and effect your interests and mine are national rather than state and are to be determined in the city of Washington."

Senator Brown also urged the importance of electing a Republican congressman and legislators who would vote for a United States senator and excoriated the Democratic traducers of the commonwealth, who, he said, are masquerading under villification and abuse to hide their weakness and evade the real issues of the campaign.

The party tomorrow will storm the Democratic stronghold of Berks county at Reading.

Soldiers' Ballot Differs from That of Plain Citizens at Home.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The ballots which will be sent into the anthracite coal districts tomorrow from the state department for the taking of the soldier vote will be nothing like the ordinary ballot in size or appearance.

The soldier's ballot is a strip of paper about ten inches long by five inches wide. On this are printed not only the names of the offices to be voted for, in the order of their importance, with blank spaces beneath for writing in the name of the candidates.

Pattison Finds an Alarming Defection in the Anthracite Region.

MINERS NOT IN MEETING

By WALTER J. CHRISTY.
Staff Correspondent.

ALLENTOWN, PA., Oct. 29.—Democratic Lehigh gave Pattison and Nolan a hearty welcome tonight. It is estimated that 2,500 people listened to the addresses. The county will give Pattison a majority, but it may not be so large as his managers are claiming.

Judge Pennypacker was here last night and talked to about the same number of people, who turned out this evening to hear the other side of the question. The visit of the Republican nominee undoubtedly will result in the reduction of the Pattison majority.

The afternoon was spent in Mauch Chunk, county seat of Carbon. This town is in the center of the region where occurred most of the disturbances during the anthracite coal strike. To reach there from Pottsville it is necessary to pass through Tamaqua, Lansdale and other important mining towns.

At Tamaqua 3,000 miners were assembling to participate in the celebration of John Mitchell day. There was no overture for Pattison, and but a handful of the diggers deserted the festivities to go to Mauch Chunk to listen to the ex-governor. Even most of the miners of Mauch Chunk went over to Tamaqua. Pattison had a good-sized audience, but it was chiefly composed of old-time Democrats who do not follow mining.

Pattison repeated his Pottsville reference to the settlement of the strike this afternoon and tonight. Pattison has no reason to feel certain of carrying Carbon.

His visit to the anthracite region has given him reason to view with alarm the growth of the Socialist party. This organization is recruited largely from the ranks of the Democracy, and prominent Democrats admit that the Socialists will poll 1,500 votes in Carbon this fall. The Socialists are pledged to support their whole ticket, and the man among them who cuts is dubbed a "scab."

At Summit Hill this afternoon a Democrat offered a small boy a Pattison button. He would not touch it until assured by the donor that it was not a "scab" button, as the youngster expressed it. When asked what happened to "scabs" in Summit Hill, the youthful American promptly replied: "We kill them."

Dr. Joseph Shull, the Democratic candidate for congressman in the district, was given a chance to speak at Mauch Chunk, and violated Democratic rules by discussing national issues, much to the displeasure of Pattison.

The meeting in Allentown was addressed by Pattison, Nolan and Hensel. They had nothing new to offer.

In the Berks-Lehigh district there is an interesting congressional contest. William H. Sowden of this city, who four years ago was the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, is this fall the Republican nominee for congress against M. L. C. Kline, Democrat, also of Allentown. The district is strongly Democratic, but the candidacy of Sowden may result in the election of some Republican assemblymen in both counties. This is especially true of the districts in Allentown and Reading.

Tomorrow Pattison goes to Honesdale, Wayne county, for an afternoon meeting and appears in Scranton in the evening.

ROME, Oct. 29.—The pope today received Archbishop Bruchesi of Montreal. The pontiff showed great interest in Canada and spoke in flattering terms of Premier Laurier.

The pope said: "If the Canadians love me, I have a special affection for them, of which I have given proofs during the whole of my pontificate, the last being sending an apostolic delegate to strengthen the bonds between Canada and the papacy."

The archbishop presented to the pope a diocesan offering of $5,200.

PLAN TO COMPLETE COAL MERGER, JAN. 1

Presidents Robbins and Finley Yesterday Held Conference to Arrange Terms.

President Robbins of the Pittsburgh Coal Company yesterday afternoon met representatives of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company in furtherance of the plan to consolidate the concerns. It is proposed to have the merger effected by January 1, although it will require active work to carry out by that time the plans.

The conference lasted for several hours, taking place in Mr. Robbins' offices in the Hussey building. Col. Finley, president of the Monongahela River company, met Mr. Robbins for the first time since the scheme has been taken up. Further conferences will follow. It is understood that the parties are willing that a deal should be carried through, but the matter of arranging the terms of a definite proposition is no easy matter. As soon as terms are agreed upon the matter will be presented to the directors of each company.

MOROCCO ON EVE OF A REBELLION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 29.—In view of the disturbed condition of the interior of Morocco, considerable interest was manifested today in the departure from here of Commissioner Langerman of the St. Louis exposition, who started for Tangier and Fez to enlist the interest of the sultan and secure an exhibit. Langerman is vice consul general at Tangier.

The latest report from the interior indicate a state of serious unrest which may break out into an attempt to install Mulai-Mohamed as sultan. The present sultan, Mulai-Abd-el-Aziz, has incurred the enmity of his subjects by the introduction of English modern inventions, including telephones, automobiles and a narrow gauge railway.

A letter from George C. Reed, a Kansas missionary at Mequinez, indicates that numerous interior tribes have broken out. Native sentiment has taken the form of a general anti-foreign crusade.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.

WORLD'S RECORDS ARE VERY COMMON AT MEMPHIS

GENEVA EVEVEN WON FROM W. U. P.

JOE THOMPSON STAR

There were stages during yesterday's football contest between the W. U. P. and Geneva elevens at the Colosseum when it looked as though the local team stood something of a chance for a victory, but these stages did not last long enough to finish up with a touchdown. The boys from Beaver Falls met brace with brace, and at the end of playing time they had the victory sewed up by a score of 22 to 2.

The W. U. P. team just managed to save itself the disgrace of a shutout by scoring during the second half, which netted the team two points. This play happened in this way: Geneva had kicked off and W. U. P. by good line bucking had pushed the ball down to the visitors' 15-yard line, where in answer to a rallying cry from Capt. Joe Thompson, the Geneva players took a brace and held for downs, thus securing the ball. Schmidt, who was playing halfback and doing the punting dropped back to kick the ball out of danger, but W. U. P. blocked the kick, the ball rolling back over Geneva's goal line, where it was secured by Thompson, who was downed in his tracks. Jim Brownlee of Washington, who was doing the refereeing, said it was a safety, and that's how W. U. P. got its score and saved the shutout.

Was Geneva All the Way.

There really wasn't much to the game outside of Geneva, and that team put up about as clever a display of football as has been seen here this season. The team is equally as good on the defensive as it is on the offensive, and that's saying a good deal, because the Beaver Falls lads are tartars when they get started. They were a bit slow in starting yesterday, but when they did get going they made up for lost time.

The crowd that witnessed the contest was not a very large one, but like all college crowds, what it lacked in numbers it made up in enthusiasm. The Geneva rooters seemed to be in the majority, and they were loyal rooters with their college songs and cries. Every one of them wore the college colors—yellow and white—and the girl rooters joined in with yellow and white flags. It was a jolly, good-natured crowd, and their team's victory was the one thing that made their happiness complete.

The game, so far as strict adherence to the rules, was one of the best of the season. There was but little kicking over decisions, and but little time was lost by players being disabled. There were times when certain of the players allowed their feelings to run riot, and the result was a couple of displays of fisticuffs, which did not last long enough for any harm to be done. The officials had difficulty in finding out the aggressors, so that no penalties were inflicted.

In the matter of play, the Geneva team fairly outclassed the one from W. U. P. in almost every department of the game. The Beaver Falls boys had a pretty system of team work which counted largely for them and their interference when a play was started was a treat to look at. They circled W. U. P.'s ends, went through guards and tackles—in fact, they did pretty much as they pleased, and in such a neat manner as to leave no room for doubt as to their playing ability.

The bright particular star of the afternoon was Capt. Joe Thompson of Geneva, whose 65-yard run for a touchdown in the second half was the star play of the game. In this run Thompson was aided by Leach and Critchlow, whose interference made the run possible. The other star players for Geneva were Schmidt, Critchlow and "Bull" Martin. In fact, the whole team deserves credit for a clever display of football.

Scoring the Touchdowns.

Geneva scored two of its touchdowns in the first half. The first was made by East after clever runs by Martin and himself. Schmidt missed the goal. The second touchdown was made by Bruce Martin after a pretty 20-yard run around W. U. P.'s left end. The punt out was missed and the half ended 10 to 0 in Geneva's favor. In the second half W. U. P. scored its safety on a block kick, then Geneva set to work and Thompson made the score 16 to 2 by his clever 65-yard run. The last touchdown was made by Critchlow, who skirted W. U. P.'s right end for a 33-yard run and a touchdown. The score and lineup:

HAD FINE PRACTICE.

Wash.-Jeff Team Given Some Hard Work—Cripples Are Rounding Into Shape.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Cold bracing weather put lots of snap into the playing of the Washington-Jefferson football team this afternoon. The game with Waynesburg had been canceled and in place of this contest the men had one of the best day's work of the season. All the big fellows got into the formations and several new ones were tried out.

Kicking and running back punts, with work on the defense, were the features of the practice and the men seem to be greatly improved. Th back field men as usual today were instructed in catching punts, as their work along this line heretofore has been somewhat ragged. The men seem to be getting surer and very little fumbling was in evidence. Burns got into the playing today, as did Heimberger and all the rest of the cripples, with the exception of Hayes and it is now believed that he will be in shape to play in the hard contest Saturday with the University of Buffalo.

Longwell, the freshman who made such a good showing at halfback in the game last Saturday with the Ohio Medical university team, was in for the 'varsity team today and gives promise of becoming the best halfback on the team. He has lots of weight and is fast as well and backs up the line like an old hand. He will probably be played in the game Saturday.

The Game Was a Draw.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Lasker and Lipschuetz this evening drew the match game begun at the Manhattan Chess club on Sunday afternoon. Eighty-nine moves were recorded and nine hours and 12 minutes were spent on the deliberation of the moves. It required three sittings to finish the game.

WORLD'S RECORDS SEEM VERY EASY

Two of Them Were Reduced and One Tied Down at Memphis.

THE TRACK WAS FAST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MEMPHIS, Oct. 29.—Two world's records were reduced and another tied at today's meeting of the Memphis Trotting association. The first special event was the attempt of Direct Hal and Prince Direct to pace a mile, as a team, against the record of 2:08¼. The pair were driven by the veteran Geers, and when the time 2:05½ was hung out the crowd gave the stars an ovation. The first quarter was paced in :32½; the half in 1:04 and the three-quarter pole was passed in 1:34½.

Onward Silver next appeared to beat his previous two-mile trotting record of 4:28½. Driven by Dudson, the horse made a gallant effort, but he could only tie his former mark.

The bay stallion Nervola was sent against 4:25¼, the pacing record for stallions at two miles. Dean handled his horse, and at the end a full second was clipped off the old figures.

Prince Alert failed to beat the gelding's pacing record of 2:00¾, first mile in 2:01½.

AN AMERICAN STAR.

New York Said to Have Signed One, but His Name Is Withheld.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Had John T. Brush, owner of the New York club, arrived in this city tonight, as anticipated, he might have shed some light upon the American league star who is reported to have been signed by the New York nine. Fred Knowles, secretary of the club, said today that the New York management had come to terms with one of the best men in the rival organization. Asked to disclose the player's identity, he replied that it was out of the question.

It is possible that Wallace may have come to terms with the New York management, as he is not under contract.

LAJOIE WILL STICK TO CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 29.—Napoleon Lajoie of the Cleveland Baseball club, referring to a report that he had signed or was about to sign a three-year contract with Brush for $25,000, said this evening:

"The story is without the slightest foundation. My contract with the Cleveland club does not expire for two years, and if I live and am able to play ball it will be fulfilled. I am perfectly satisfied with the treatment and salary paid me by the Cleveland club and nothing would tempt me to break my contract."

THE WESTERN FIGHT IS NOT YET SETTLED

Truce Has Been Temporarily Declared as to Players Until Peace Is Restored.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—After another session today the national board of arbitration gave up the task, for the time being, of trying to settle the baseball war. The board adjourned to meet in Chicago November 15. Meantime a truce has been declared between the Western league and the American association with regard to taking each other's players.

Conferences have been going on all week, with the American association represented by President Brice of Columbus and Watkins of Indianapolis, while M. H. Sect Sexton of Rock Island, president of the Western league, and T. H. Van Brunt of St. Joseph, the financial man of the league, have looked out for the interests of their organization.

According to a member of the board the American association people want the Western league to get out of both Kansas City and Milwaukee, Van Brunt to get a half interest in the Kansas City team. This was the only proposition the American association would listen to. The Western leaguers declined to hear of a compromise on these terms, but proposed an equal division of disputed territory. When this was refused the westerners offered the American association $20,000 for the franchises of the two cities. Then they offered to sell at the same figure. Nothing came of their offer.

MATTY DENIES A VISIT.

Report That Ban Johnson Had Been in Greensburg.

A report reached the city last night that Ban Johnson, president of the American league, had quietly dropped into Greensburg yesterday to hold a conference with Christy Mathewson, who is up there practicing with Pittsburgh football stars.

It will be remembered that the St. Louis American league team claimed both Mathewson and Bowerman of the New York club. Later it was given out that Mathewson had repudiated his American league agreement and signed to play with New York again and this was the alleged reason for Johnson's visit. Not wanting Matty to slide to St. Louis, The Gazette correspondent at Greensburg telegraphed that the Johnson visit was denied by Mathewson and that Johnson was not registered at any hotel. The Americans' leader, however, has a habit of dropping into town and carefully avoids all hotel registers.

THE BALTIMORE MEDS GAME IS CANCELED

Team Seemed Too Weak for Stars—Cottage Team Will Get Another Try.

The football eleven representing the Baltimore Medical school, which was scheduled to play the Stars on Saturday at the Colosseum, will not be called on to make a journey here, as the game has been canceled by Manager Berry.

The reason for the cancellation is due to the fact that the record made so far by the medical eleven is such that a good game could hardly be expected. The team is a weak one, and would be no match for the Stars, and for that reason the contest was called off. The date has been given to the College eleven of Homewood, which made such a good showing against the Stars two weeks ago. The Cottage team is to be strengthened by big Dr. McKenzie, who played for Latrobe two years ago, and other local football stars, and the game promises to be an interesting one.

A special from Greensburg says the Pittsburgh Stars had the best practice yesterday that they have had this season. The cool, snappy air seemed to fill the men with life, and they ran up and down the field for two hours. They played basketball for an hour and Burney's team won, 20-14. This style of game is even better for the wind than an actual game.

Kerkhoff has taken the bandage from his hand and may be in the lineup on November 8 at Philadelphia. McCutcheon will be out of the game and seems to take hold of the place much better than at tackle. Mathewson still continues to drop goals from the center of the field with ease. John Geiger, an old Latrobe guard, is expected to join the squad tomorrow. Harry McChesney is playing regularly at halfback, and looks like a fixture, but the other men are pushing him hard for the position.

ABSORBING PROBLEM

Of the Present Day.

The absorbing problem of today is, how to expend one's income so as to attain the best results; that is, get full value for one's money.

It may truthfully be said that this has been, is, and always will be an absorbing problem to those with limited means; but the fact remains that, with the price of living necessities constantly rising one must husband one's resources more carefully than ever before if he would live within his income. In saying that prices are rising, we except one article which has come to occupy a prominent place in the family medicine closet, and that is the specific for piles or hemorrhoids known as Pyramid Pile Cure; this remedy is still sold by druggists at the old prices of fifty cents and one dollar, and these prices will remain unchanged. Those to whom this precaution has brought relief and a cure after years of suffering do not need to be told of its merits; others are advised that it is the greatest boon ever discovered, to all those afflicted with any form of piles; it is in suppository form, is easily applied, reaches the seat of the complaint, and gives immediate relief and a lasting cure.

The reader may have tried salves, ointments and lotions without benefit, and feeling that his money has been wasted, resolves to suffer on rather than experiment farther. The reason for the failure of these treatments is, that they do not reach the seat of the trouble, and hence do not remove the cause, as does Pyramid Pile Cure. A little book describing piles, their cause and cure, is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and anyone may procure a copy by sending name and address to above firm. As showing the estimation in which this remedy is held by the public it may interest the reader to know that its sales now exceed those of all other pile remedies combined.

GREAT OVATION FOR MITCHELL

THOUSANDS ARE IN LINE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 29.—Mitchell Day was celebrated in all the principal towns of the anthracite coal region today, and in order that all the mine workers might have an opportunity to participate in the exercises, the mines were closed down. The principal demonstration was held in this city, and President Mitchell took part.

In the early morning there was bright sunshine, but towards noon the time for the big parade to move it became squally and snow fell for several minutes. But the changeable weather did not keep an army of strangers out of town. Everybody wore John Mitchell badges.

The procession started shortly before noon and was nearly one hour in passing a given point. It is estimated that there were 10,000 men in line. The parade was headed by a platoon of police. President Mitchell, Mother Jones, the Rev. Mr. J. E. Powers of Spring Valley, Ill., and Thomas Haggerty of Reynoldsville, Pa., occupied the first carriage.

Given Great Ovation.

President Mitchell was given an ovation all along the line and whenever his carriage stopped the crowd from the sidewalk pressed around and insisted on shaking his hand.

The banners carried bore many curious inscriptions. Some of them read as follows:

"By arbitration we hope to gain our just demands."

"Unity and friendship make peace."

"Hail to Mitchell, chief of men, Who drove the Baer into his den."

"We will stand by our great leader, Mitchell."

"God bless our country and our union."

"We honor and respect our presidents, Roosevelt and Mitchell."

After the parade was over a big mass meeting was held at Y. M. C. A. park. The Rev. J. J. Curran of Holy Savior church, this city, was elected chairman. He introduced as the first speaker the Rev. Mr. Powers of Spring Valley, Ill. Mr. Powers said he had known John Mitchell since boyhood and he always found him noble and upright. He was delighted to see the great tribute paid him by the miners.

Honors Not All for One.

President Mitchell was the last speaker. He was received with great cheerings. He said in part:

"Language is inadequate to express the gratitude I feel for the great reception I have received at the hands of the anthracite miners, and I feel that the victory is not due to myself, but to the men, women and children who made so many sacrifices. I hope there will never again be a strike in the coal field of Pennsylvania. I want the union miners to prove that they are better workmen than the non-union men. I desire the men and the operators to meet. I do not want to make enemies of the operators.

"I wish to impress upon you that membership in the union is the only safeguard. The operators are not going to pay the bill of the strike. They will make the workers pay it if they can, but not they will make the people pay it. It behooves the mine workers, therefore, to see to it that they are not made the victims, and I hope you will be true to yourselves and to one another and see to it that the cost of this greatest labor struggle that has ever occurred is not placed on your backs. Stick by your union and the union will stick by you."

Tenth in Shamokin Parade.

SHAMOKIN, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Mitchell Day was celebrated by 10,000 united mine workers and slate pickers, and the Tenth regiment and band parading the principal streets. One banner bearing a picture of Mitchell and a grisly bear, containing the inscription, "Mitchell, the trapper, who caught the Bear, Ow, Ow," caused much laughter. No collieries were operated and business was generally suspended.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Mitchell Day was observed by a parade with 9,000 united mine workers in line. The Lithuanian local union alone had 2,500 men, the Polish local union 2,300 and the Greek local union 300. Excellent order was maintained.

A carriage hired by a Democratic county candidate for himself and friends was kept out of the line and political banners were tabooed. Not a colliery worked today. The weather is cold and it is very windy at the camps of the First battalion of the Sixteenth regiment, and the Sheridan troopers. The former now have their camp in good shape and scoured the town stores for oil stoves this afternoon and evening. The Sheridan troopers have stabled their horses in some of the Columbia park buildings.

Five Thousand in Line.

MAHANOY CITY, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Every colliery in the Mahanoy valley was idle today on account of the celebration of Mitchell day, which was observed in this city by a street demonstration in which 5,000 mine workers participated. Portraits of President Roosevelt and John Mitchell were borne side by side.

The 1,500 employes of Lentz & Co. at Park Place collieries, at a meeting this evening, decided to return to work tomorrow after being on strike since Monday over the refusal of the company to reinstate old hands who have been blacklisted for the prominent part they took in the strike.

Maj. McEhenney, in command of the Second battalion of the Sixteenth regiment at this place, left today for Cooperstown to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Col. Hulings will continue headquarters at Mt. Carmel.

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 29.—Mitchell day parade and mass meetings threw idle all the collieries of this section, except the Oxford and some of the washeries. A notice was posted at the head of the Oxford shaft that any one who did not report this morning would be discharged. Despite this some of the men laid idle and joined the West Scranton celebration. A majority of the washeries worked, but with small forces.

BOY IS MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT DEAD IN FIELD

Coroner Called Upon to Investigate Death Near Scottdale.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCOTTDALE, PA., Oct. 29.—Benjamin Earnest, 16 years old, was shot this evening on the Locke farm, west of town. The bullet entered the abdomen and the boy died in about an hour. The shooting is a mystery, no one seeming to know who fired the shot or the causes leading up to the act. The coroner will hold an inquest tomorrow. No arrests have been made, and it is likely none will be made until after the coroner's inquest.

Today was young Earnest's birthday, and it was his intention to go to the home of his mother, Mrs. Dorcas Earnest, at Manor. He had been employed at the pipe mill here until yesterday. While here he made his home with his brother-in-law, W. E. Green.

Several boys who were with Earnest state that he went into a corn field to get some corn to use in a squirrel trap in the woods near by. Then they heard three shots in quick succession followed by Earnest's cry that he was shot. They did not see who fired the shot. It is stated that Earnest told a man who helped to carry him to a physician who shot him, but this man will make no statement until after the arrival of the coroner.

COMPANIES CHANGE HANDS.

The Mellons Dispose of Latrobe Light and Water Interests.

LATROBE, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Two big financial transactions took place here today. The Latrobe Water Company and the Latrobe Electric Light Company, controlled by the Mellons of Pittsburgh, and several local capitalists, were sold. The Latrobe Water Company was transferred to the National Water Works and Guarantee Company of Scranton, Pa., composed of eastern capitalists, and the Latrobe Electric Light Company passed into the hands of the Latrobe Street Railway Company, composed of local stockholders. In each case the consideration was private, but rumors place it close to $500,000.

The Latrobe Street Railway Company is making extensive improvements, having given the contract for the extension of the line from Youngstown to Baggaley for $25,000. John B. Anderson is president and Joseph C. Head, treasurer.

RAILROAD LABORERS TERRORIZE FARMERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 29.—Reports from various sections of Washington county state that negroes and Italians employed as construction hands by the Wabash are terrorizing residents by acts of lawlessness. At Hickory especially are the laborers turbulent, and the officials of the township seem powerless. Cutting and shooting affrays are of almost daily occurrence.

Speakeasies are allowed to flourish in many instances. Where negroes and Italians are brought together frequent race quarrels result. The negroes use razors and revolvers, while the Italians carry stilettoes or knives. The Italians keep their money in their cabins and the negroes make frequent raids upon them.

Hickory was one of the most flourishing sheep-raising districts of the county prior to the entrance of the Wabash, but the farmers have been almost driven out of business by the depredations of the laborers. Hen roosts fare likewise.

Contractor Probably Fatally Beaten and Robbed Near Irwin.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., Oct. 29.—Contractor Simon Sadler of New Kensington is at Newllnsburg with his skull fractured in two places. The surgeon holds little hope for his recovery.

Sadler was erecting a county bridge. Yesterday he went to Wilmerding and secured an unknown colored man to go on the work. While going through a woods the negro struck Sadler on the head several times with a club. While unconscious Sadler was robbed of his money, supposed to be $100, and his gold watch.

The colored man was traced to Wilmerding by Constable Meerhoff. At that place the negro purchased a ticket for Boston.

SAYS RECEIPTS ARE BOGUS.

Democrats Charged With Effort to Secure Illegal Votes.

DUBOIS, PA., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The Morning Courier will publish a statement over the signature of Benjamin F. Chase, chairman of the Republican county committee, that on the afternoon of October 24 there were printed at a Clearfield printing office about 700 fraudulent tax receipts, and offering a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of any person attempting to use them in securing a vote.

Photographic reproductions of the genuine and bogus receipts are to be published, and a copy of the paper will be placed in the hands of every voter in the county. Democratic leaders recently discovered that there were about 700 of the voters of their ticket who have not paid their taxes within the time required by the law, and the scheme to furnish them with fraudulent receipts, it is said, was framed up. There is little chance of the bogus receipts being used.

On the Furniture Floors

Two entire floors in this section of our store are given up exclusively to Furniture—the kind of household goods that are most sought by the well-to-do middle classes. Persuasive prices make quick sales up here, and the excellence of the cabinet work converts chance customers into confirmed friends and regular patrons.

On the Clothing Floor

This floor is a complete Men's Outfitting Establishment, where men of economical turn of mind can provide themselves with Overcoats, Suits, Hats, Shoes and Custom-Tailored Garments, made to measure by the Desbecker-Block System, for much less money than clothing costs at the ground-floor establishments. Everything that boys wear, except Shoes, will likewise be found here. Boys' Shoes on the ground floor.

On the Drapery Floor

Curtains, Portieres, Window Laces and everything else in the way of handsome hangings that contribute to interior beauty of a home will be found on this floor. Also a complete line of Wall Papers (see Friday Bargain List in this afternoon's papers for something special in this line).

RIPANS

Five years ago I began to feel nervous, tired and sad. I lost my appetite, my bowels failed to move, I could not sleep. A fellow workman remarked my bad looks, and told me he knew of something that would fit my case. He then told me of Ripans Tabules. I bought some and found they were just what I needed. I became well and strong. Just one seemed to make me feel better.

SITE PICKED FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Institution for Women and Children to Be Located in Tannehill Street.

CHARTER IS OBTAINED

Officers Elected, With Dr. Laura G. Shrom as President—Female Physicians of City Interested in Project.

The site for a hospital for women and children, projected by female physicians and benevolent women of the city, has been picked. The old Tannehill property in Tannehill street, near Center avenue, formerly occupied by the St. Paul's Roman Catholic Orphan asylum, has been purchased.

The sum of $35,000 will be spent in remodeling this property for hospital use. The money has been subscribed by philanthropic men and women.

The promoters held a meeting yesterday and elected the following officers: Dr. Laura G. Shrom, president; Dr. Amelia A. Dranga, vice president; Miss A. L. Wilson, secretary; C. H. Mitchell, treasurer.

The hospital association has obtained a charter and has the plans for the hospital about completed. According to the statement of one of the officers, the hospital will be devoted exclusively to women and children and will be conducted exclusively by women. It will be the only institution of the kind in the city, will be non-sectarian and will be in all respects a modern institution, with a well-equipped operating room.

The building was used as an orphan asylum for a number of years, but was abandoned some time ago. The crowded condition of the other hospitals and the absence of necessary features for the proper treatment of women and children are responsible for the new institution. The services of all the women physicians of the city are enlisted in the move, and in a few days an appeal will be issued to the public for funds.

SCIENTIFIC MEN IN PITTSBURGH

SAW CARNEGIE MUSEUM

Were Greatly Interested in Prehistoric Treasures and Flower Show—Paid a Visit to the Homestead Mills.

Thirty-one distinguished scientists from foreign countries, spent yesterday in this city examining various industries and institutions. They are members of the Congress of Americanists, which adjourned on Saturday in New York. They were met by Dr. W. J. Holland and spent the morning at the Carnegie institute and the Phipps conservatory in Schenley park. They are traveling as the guests of President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, but in Pittsburgh were guests of the Carnegie institute.

Immediately on their arrival they were driven to the Hotel Schenley, where they breakfasted, and from there were taken to the Carnegie institute. In the music hall Walter E. Hall gave a short organ recital. Then Dr. Holland made an address of welcome, in which he told the visitors what they could see in Pittsburgh of especial interest to them.

The scientists spent considerable time in the museum, paying most attention to the exhibits relating to primitive life on the American continent. The flower show at the conservatory delighted the party. They were greatly interested in the economic display of the plants of North, Central and South Africa, and spent a great deal of time in the part of the conservatory that contained them.

They lunched at 1 o'clock and at 2:30 boarded two special cars and went to the Homestead steel mills as guests of W. E. Corey, president of the Carnegie Steel Company. The entire afternoon was spent in inspecting the plant. They left Pittsburgh last night at 10 o'clock to go to Columbus.

Among the scientists in the party are the following: Juan B. Ambrosetti, Argentine republic; Alfredo Chavero, Mexico; Prof. Leon Lejeal, College de France, Paris; Prof. Karl von den Steinen, University of Berlin; Prof. Hjalmar Stolpe, Royal Ethnological museum, Stockholm, Sweden; Francisco Belmar, Oaxaca, Mexico; Prof. John I. Biles, University of Glasgow; Giovanni Branchi, Italy; Alonzo M. Criado, Paraguay; Prof. Henri Pittier de Fabrega, Costa Rica; Prof. Juan H. Ferraz, Costa Rica; Prof. C. V. Hartman, Swedish Anthropological society; A. P. Mandsley, Anthropological institute of Great Britain and Ireland; Prof. J. L. van Panhuys, The Netherlands; N. Boloz Peraza, Honduras; Gonzalez de la Rosa, Paris, Gen. Garcia, Venezuela; Prof. Waldemar Bogarras, Russia; Dr. Edward Seler, German government. The duke of Loubat, a member of the congress, did not come with the party, but will visit Pittsburgh later.

Delegates to Parkersburg Convention Will Travel in Style.

The many delegates who will attend the annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement association at Parkersburg next month will go in special sleeping cars, and these will be run on a siding, where they will remain until after the convention. The delegates will sleep in the cars.

The delegates from Pittsburgh have made arrangements for hotel accommodations, but the Cincinnati contingent will live in a sleeper while delegations from numerous other towns will do likewise. It is believed that Parkersburg will be able to take care of all and the hotel men who have been queried in reference to accommodations, promise to take good care of all who come.

So much enthusiasm is manifested that those who are interested in the affair say that it will be the largest gathering ever held in the interest of river improvements.

News of the Rivers.

The Alice Brown is due at New Orleans, where she went for an empty tow.

A meeting of the members of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, will be held Saturday.

The towboat B. D. Wood was inspected at Catlettsburg several days ago and is in good condition.

The locks on Green river at Spottsville were thrown open to boats Sunday, after a general overhauling and repairing.

The towboat John A. Wood, which is laid up at Middleport, has 22 empty coalboats in her tow. Capt. Lee McKain is in command.

The steamer Cricket, it is thought, will not be able to come to Pittsburgh tomorrow for lack of enough water in the upper Ohio.

The B. D. Wood has cleaned out all the sunken coal at Twelve Pole, and the snagboat E. A. Woodruff is tearing out the wrecked barges.

It is rumored that Arthur B. Brown, the genial purser of the Queen City, has become a benedict. Miss Fanny Galt of Cincinnati being the fortunate lady.

The Robert P. Gilliam made the best time of any boat in the Kanawha fleet on the last coal run. The Gilliam is the finest towboat in the Great Kanawha river.

A postal card was received at the Memphis Packet Company office from Capt. R. W. Wier, from the top of Pike's Peak. He states there was six feet of snow and the temperature below zero.

The towboat Tom Dodsworth was coaled yesterday and made ready for the next trip south. She was laid up at one of the lower landings in the harbor, her repairs at Brown's station having been completed.

The steamer Kanawha came as far as Rochester on her way to Pittsburgh and turned back from that point. The boat may be compelled to tie up, but if a rise develops within a few days she will keep on running.

The hospital commission left for Washington yesterday morning, having finished its labors here. Several sites are under consideration, and the comission will make its recommendations to the secretary of the treasury.

The towboat Robert Gilland brought the Harvester's tow as far as Point Pleasant. It will be several weeks before the Harvester can get her shaft placed at Cincinnati. The old one which was broken will be welded and kept for an emergency.

J. Norwood Rodgers and his bride arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday from the east and for the present Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers will reside with Capt. W. B. Rodgers and wife, parents of the groom, until Mr. Rodgers' new home at Fairview is ready for occupancy, which will be in two or three weeks.

Testimony bearing on the collision between the towboat T. J. Wood and Vesta was heard yesterday, but it will be several days before a decision is rendered. Capt. George H. Atkinson was at his office yesterday. He has been ill and went there, it is said, against the advice of his physician.

According to a dispatch received from New Orleans the towboat Sprague broke two hog chains, her stern and bow dropped down below the level of the water line, the boat parted a few feet forward of the pilot house and bulged up 14 feet amidships. At the office of the coal combination yesterday President John B. Finley said that the boat had broken two hog chains, but was not injured and would go back on the docks for repairs. The steamer has broken her chains several times and has had a series of unfortunate accidents ever since she was started down the Mississippi river from Dubuque, where the big vessel was built.

The house was very handsomely decorated, the parlor, where the wedding occurred, being in green and white. The same colors were used in the breakfast room; the large green wedding bell hanging over the table with streams of white from it was a very unique feature. SOCIETY

SOCIETY is interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Haskell Christy and Frank Scott Willock. The popularity and social prominence which both Miss Christy and Mr. Willock enjoy makes this latest engagement of interest to a wide circle of friends and social acquaintances. No date is given for the wedding, which will take place next spring. Miss Christy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Christy of Frederick avenue, Sewickley, and is prominent in all social affairs in the Sewickley valley. She is identified with both the Allegheny Country club and the Edgeworth club social circles. Mr. Willock is the son of Mrs. John Scott Willock of Beaver avenue, Sewickley. He is one of the most popular cotillion leaders in Pittsburgh, and has been for a number of seasons one of the committee of three young men directing the Monday night cotillions, the smartest dance each winter. He is a member of the Pittsburgh club and of the Allegheny Country club.

Last evening Mr. Willock gave a handsome little dinner at the Pittsburgh club house in Penn avenue for 10 people, including his fiancee. The table decorations were in pink chrysanthemums. After the dinner the party went to Trinity church for the wedding of Miss Phillips and Oliver P. Nicola.

Miss Jane Murdock is the secretary of the society and applications may be made to her.

Echo Missionary Meeting.

Emory Methodist Episcopal church, corner of Highland avenue and Broad street, East End, is to have a rally of missionary workers tonight (Thursday) at 7:45. It is to be in the nature of an echo of the great missionary convention held last week in Cleveland, at which over 1,900 delegates from all parts of the country were present. Among them were many of the most distinguished men in Methodism, both clerical and lay. At the Cleveland meeting, in about one hour, $312,500 was raised for the missions of this great church in foreign lands; this magnificent offering is perhaps over three-fold greater than any sum ever raised at one time for such an object in the history of the world. The meeting at the Emory church will be addressed by several of the ministers who attended the Cleveland convention, among them being Dr. T. N. Doyle, D. D., and Dr. W. F. Dye. Dr. Taylor, secretary of the missionary society in New England, one of the men who electrified by his eloquence the vast audience in the Grays' armory, Cleveland, where last week's convention was held. He will be the principal speaker, coming over from Washington for this special purpose. All the Epworth League societies of the city are expected to be present and all who are or should be interested in missions should attend this meeting, not to help raise money, but to receive a portion of the inspiration with which all who attended the great convention seemed endowed. The cause of missions in all denominations has received an uplift and inspiration from the Cleveland convention which will be felt to the remotest bounds, not only of Christendom, but heathendom as well.

Phillips—Nicola.

Trinity church once more opened its doors for a fashionable wedding when last evening the marriage of Miss Josephine Ormsby Phillips, the youngest daughter of Mr. John Ormsby Phillips of Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, and Oliver P. Nicola, took place. It was the first of the fashionable weddings since society returned to town from the country and the seashore and the handsome old church was filled with a representative social gathering. The decorations of the church were simple and were confined to the chancel, where consisted of tall palms and ferns grouped as a background for the bridal party. Upon the high altar were two vases of white chrysanthemums.

The bride, a debutante scarcely more than a year ago, was attended by a particularly pretty group of girls, nearly all of whom entered society the same season. Miss Mabel Pomeroy was maid of honor and the bridesmaids included Miss Gertrude Irwin, Miss Marguerite Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Burd Thaw, Miss Mathilda Stevenson of Philadelphia, Miss Cornelia McKnight and Miss Camp of Norwich, Conn. The bride was given away by her brother, John H. B. Phillips. George Nicola, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and the ushers were Frank C. Neale, Austin G. Nicola, Harry D. McCandless, Robert W. Flenniken, Thomas O'Connor Jones and Harry Robinson. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alfred Arundel, rector of Trinity.

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white duchess satin trimmed with rose pointe and duchess lace. Her veil of tulle was worn court fashion and falling to the edge of her long train was caught with an ostrich tip and orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a shower arrangement of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore an exquisite gown of white mousseline de soie with pointed tucked skirt and lace-trimmed bodice over yellow liberty satin, with a broad sash of liberty silk. She carried a huge yellow chrysanthemum and in her hair wore yellow ostrich tips. The bridesmaids wore white mousseline de soie over white silk, the skirts showing the pointed tucks and the bodices cut low and sleeveless, were trimmed with lace and ribbon falling over the arms, and finished with sashes of yellow liberty satin. White tips were worn in the hair and their flowers were yellow chrysanthemums. The usher and best man wore boutonnieres of orange blossoms.

After the wedding a large reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Allegheny. The house was richly decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. After the reception and supper, the bride and bridegroom left for their wedding trip.

An Engagement Announced.

Mrs. John Porter Hunter yesterday gave a handsomely appointed luncheon at her home in North Highland avenue for her niece, Miss Nancy Cowan McClung, and formally announced the engagement of Miss McClung to Dr. Harry Ballou Bryson. Covers were laid for 14; the table was beautifully decorated in red roses, and the guest list included the Misses Mary Lee and Alice Paul of Oakmont, Pa.; Miss Alice Parkin of New Kensington, Miss Carolyn Woolslair of Beaver, Miss Isabel McClung, Miss Sara Albertson, Miss Mary Chambers McClung, Miss Florence Crawford, Mrs. Charles Agnew McClung, Miss Maude Hunter, Miss Mary Martin, Miss Elizabeth Packard and the aged grandfather of Miss McClung, John Agnew, who shared honors with his granddaughter.

Miss McClung, the bride-to-be, is the eldest daughter of the late Murry T. and Mrs. Annie Agnew McClung. She is a niece of Judge Samuel A. McClung, and of Attorney William H. McClung. Dr. Bryson is an oculist and aurist of this city, a graduate of the Cleveland Medical college; oculist at the Homeopathic hospital, chief of staff of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Dispensary, connected with the Homeopathic hospital, and a prominent member of local and state medical societies. The wedding will take place in December.

Aull—Lacock.

A large reception was given last evening in honor of Dr. Lacock and his bride, who were married earlier in the evening in the presence of their relatives and intimate friends. The ceremony was held at 7 o'clock, the bride being Miss Clara Florence Aull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Aull, and the bridegroom Dr. James Stuart Lacock of Allegheny. It was a home wedding and handsomely conducted. The ceremony was performed in the parlor at the left of the hall where, before a tall screen of palms and ferns, stood the prie-dieu of white satin, upon which the bridal couple knelt. Beside it and contrasting most effectively with the rich green of the tropical plants, was a white wicker vase over five feet in height, filled with large white chrysanthemums. An uncle of the bride, the Rev. Charles B. Mitchell of Cleveland, performed the marriage ceremony. The bride entered the parlors with her father, who gave her away. She was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Aull, as maid of honor, and by six bridesmaids, Miss Annie Kearns, Miss Elizabeth Dunlap, Miss Georgia Lacock, Miss Alice Smith, Miss Cora Wallace and Miss Predmore of Warren, Pa. Dr. Edward W. Smithman, formerly of Philadelphia, but now of Oil City, was the best man. After the ceremony, which was witnessed by nearly 100, dinner was served and at 8:30 o'clock the reception was given.

To accommodate the several hundred guests a marquee was erected upon the lawn, with entrances from both the side and the front porches, which were enclosed. The reception was conducted in the house and refreshments were served in the marquee. The bride and bridegroom stood in the parlors where the ceremony was performed. The bride wore a beautiful imported white lace gown slightly during at the feet and fashioned with a full court train. Her veil of tulle was fastened with an ostrich tip and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of Irish lace over pink Peau de Soie silk and her bouquet consisted of maidenhair ferns and white roses. The other maids appeared in gowns of white mousseline over white and they carried pink roses. The decorations throughout the house were very handsome.

Last evening Dr. Lacock and his bride started away on their wedding trip. They will not return for several weeks and will then live in Ridge avenue, Allegheny, for a while until they determine their place of residence. No at home cards will be issued at present. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding last evening were Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge T. Hitchkiss of Cleveland, Miss Feldhauser of Denver, Miss Helen Hall of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Miss Cora Lipton of Erie.

Busbey—Twist.

Miss Adella Busbey of Washington, Pa., and I. F. Twist of Rochester, Ill., were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Busbey in Washington. The wedding was one of the largest of the autumn social events. The Rev. Dr. William E. Simmons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. Miss Mary Busbey, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Lewis A. Busbey, a brother, was best man. Miss Busbey is well known in Washington, and also in Wheeling, where she formerly resided with her parents. She was a student at the Washington seminary. The groom is a grain merchant of Rochester, Ill., and will take his bride there. Among those who were present were Mrs. William McCleary, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Busbey, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Frank C. Caldwell and Mrs. E. Bocking, Wheeling, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Waddell, East End.

Recipes for Using Nuts.

There has been a marked increase in the use of nuts as food in our own country within the last year or two. Recipes for the preparation of nut salads and nut sandwiches, purees of nuts, and as a stuffing for fowl are frequently seen in household journals, and people are coming to realize that a nutritious article of diet has been long overlooked and undervalued. The following are some modern nut recipes:

Creamed Chestnuts—Boil or steam the large Spanish chestnuts until tender. Make a cream sauce of milk or cream, seasoned with butter, salt and pepper slightly thickened, and pour over the chestnuts. Serve as a vegetable. These are delicious. The smaller chestnuts may be served in the same way.

Almond Salad—Chop and stone six olives. Add a half cup blanched almonds, chopped, also a half cup of tender celery cut fine. Mix with salad dressing and serve on lettuce leaves.

Nut and Cheese Sandwiches—Mix the rolled peanuts with an equal part of grated cheese and spread.

Peanut Biscuit—Mix together dry one quart of flour, three teaspoonfuls baking powder, one-half cupful peanuts, chopped, and a little salt. Add one-fourth cupful melted butter, rubbing it well with the flour, and sufficient sweet milk to roll out with as little kneading as possible. Bake in quick oven.

Wedge Nut (Cake)—Two cups sugar, six eggs, one tablespoon warm water, two teaspoons cream of tartar, one teaspoon soda, a little salt, two well-filled cups of flour, one pound Brazil nuts blanched and grated. Bake in a loaf. Cover with boiled frosting flavored with almond.

Beaten Biscuit a Southern Dainty.

In the Blue Grass region of Kentucky, beaten biscuit are made according to the following recipe: To two quarts of sifted flour add two teaspoonfuls of salt and four heaping tablespoonfuls of lard. When these are well mixed add a teaspoonful of sweet cream and enough cold water to make a very stiff dough. It cannot be too stiff. If it is allowed to get too moist, the biscuits will not be nice. Barely mix the ingredients. The dough must be so dry that it will crumble. Work with a kneader, or pound with a heavy iron or mallet until the dough is white and smooth and until blisters keep coming all over it. Roll out not too thin (about half an inch thick), cut out, and stick each biscuit three times with a three-pronged fork. Bake in a moderate oven. If too hot the biscuits will blister before they are done. The secret of success is in not getting the dough too moist at first, and in not stinting the elbow grease. These biscuits are good and wholesome—nice for luncheon, picnics, and for three meals a day.

Ping-Pong Punch.

There is a new drink. It is called ping-pong punch, and it costs just 5 cents. It is about 50 per cent California claret and 35 per cent soda. The rest is ice and fizz. The punch has a very sweet, somewhat gingery taste, and on account of its thirst-quenching quality should prove a success. It has already become popular with women.

* * *

The Care of Pans.

Pans in which fish or onions have been cooked should be washed and scalded, then filled with water, in which should be put a teaspoonful of soda for every two quarts of water. Place them on top of the stove for half an hour or more. This will insure the removal of the flavor of the fish or onions. The best way to clean the thin iron spiders which have become burned and black is to boil a little vinegar and salt in them, when they may be easily scrubbed clean with any good kitchen scouring soap.

To Polish Windows.

The action of the sun, moisture and carbonic acid in the air on the soda or potash in glass produces an opaqueness more or less pronounced. To remove this, wet the glass with diluted hydrochloric acid, and after a few minutes go over the glass with powdered whiting. Pour the acid slowly into the cold water, using four ounces of the acid to 12 ounces of water (one pint and a half). Polish with chamois or soft paper. It must be remembered that this acid will attack metals and should not be allowed to touch them, nor should the bottle be left open an instant longer than necessary, as the fumes are very destructive.

Stains on Dining Table.

To remove white stains caused by a hot dish from the dining table thrust a shovel into the fire until it has reached white heat, and then hold it over the stains as near as possible without running any risk of burning the table. The color is restored almost instantly.

An American Woman in Africa

EMMA SHAW COLCLEUGH.

The Sunday Gazette is one of three papers to send this intrepid woman on a daring and perilous trip into the heart of Central Africa, by way of Zanzibar, and the results of her observations and discoveries are appearing every Sunday.

Mrs. Colcleugh is widely known not only to members of the Women's Clubs, but to the general public, as a graphic writer, a popular lecturer and a courageous traveler. In the course of the last 15 years she has probably done more professional traveling than any other woman in the United States, if not in the world, penetrating alone on her own unfailing resources into far corners of three zones, where her appearance has often been the cause of dumb amazement at her daring, endurance and strength.

This African expedition, however, involved more difficulties and perils than she ever met, or dreamed before, and many of even her most loyal admirers doubted if she could accomplish her purpose. For months she was not only out of communication with her home office and her Providence friends, but beyond the boundaries of civilization, of any kind. But at last communication was established again and letters began to come.

Mrs. Colcleugh is reported to be now somewhere on her way back to civilization. When she returns and the whole story of her summer's experience is told, she may become a woman of international fame. At all events she has done something that no woman and few men have done before.

Pianos That Stand

There are any number of pianos that look well and sound fairly well—at the start. You can buy cheap pianos that do that; but a piano should be made to last a lifetime. If it only "stays good" a few months it is dear at any price.

Mathushek & Son Pianos

Are the kind that "stand." They stand the wear and tear of everyday usage, and with ordinary care three generations of children may practice on one. Besides their known goodness you have our guarantee—exchange if not satisfactory.

STOCK MARKET WEAK, CLOSING AT NET LOSSES

Professional Traders Took the Bear Side and Sold Sold the Whole List Vigorously---Local Coal Shares Active.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Finanical Editor.

For a while yesterday it looked as if the eastern stock market would be a repetition of Tuesday's dull affair. During the first hour the sales reached only 94,000 shares, and to noon only 156,000 shares. During this time London was credited with purchasing about 25,000 shares, and these purchases, together with shorts covering, served to hold prices steady to firm. From noon until 1 o'clock trading was extremely dull, the only feature of which was the weakness in Colorado Fuel and Iron, and a few other specialties. Suddenly, however, there was a burst of activity, some of the high-priced stocks began to break, and then the selling became general. No support was forthcoming, and while there was a feeble rally in the final dealings, prices as a rule closed at considerable net losses for the day. The total sales reached 552,000 shares. There was nothing on the surface to account for the sudden change in sentiment, and the only rumor of any consequence was to the effect that there was a possibility of the anthracite troubles breaking out afresh. The popular explanation was that the professionals, seeing that the London purchases had no effect in stimulating domestic demand for stocks, took the "bear" side of the market for a turn. Some of the traders called it a "Keene drive," and the movement did have the appearance of some of that speculative general's tactics.

Some of the September railway returns were not entirely satisfactory. That of the Reading system showing a deficit of $643,206 for the month, as compared with a surplus for the same month last year of $397,988, was another testimony to the expense of the coal strike. For three months of the new fiscal year the deficit amounts to $1,671,120, against a surplus of $671,000 for the corresponding period last year. In the face of this showing the common stock of the company, which has never paid a dividend, held comparatively firm above 67, but later in the day it declined to 65¾. The Southern Railway reported an increase in net for the month of $108,834, and for the three months the net increased $297,778. The operating expenses and taxes for the latter period, however, increased more than a million dollars, which seems to confirm the contention that operating cost of the railroads is increasing at a greater ratio than net earnings. For the first quarter of the new fiscal year Canadian Pacific reported an increase in gross earnings of $1,208,000, while operating expenses increased $1,023,000. St. Paul reported an increase in net for September of $174,000, but the stock was one of the weakest of the higher-priced investment shares. The decision of Vice Chancellor Emery in the Hodge suit, granting an injunction against the United States Steel Corporation restraining it from converting preferred stock into bonds, caused general surprise; but when it was learned that it was based upon a technicality, and did not impinge upon the decision of the court of errors and appeals in favor of the company, the case lost its influence as a market factor.

There were no new developments in the money market. The rate on call averaged 4 per cent, while time loans were unchanged at 6 per cent. The subtreasury paid out $2,220,000 on account of gold deposited at Pacific coast points, but since last Friday the banks have lost $742,000 net. Sterling exchange was a little firmer, but opinion continues to differ as to whether gold will be exported in the near future. It is stated that the recent strength in sterling is due to the payment of about $20,000,000 on account of the International Marine Company, better known as the ship combine. As an offset, foreign holders of Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio will be compelled to pay a considerable amount on account of subscriptions to the new securities of these companies. This whole matter of international exchange is probably more complicated now than ever before, owing to the unusual character of recent syndicate transactions, and even experts differ as to the immediate future, the average man might as well cultivate patience and await events.

More than half the dealings on the local stock board yesterday were in the coal stocks, in which River Coal was most prominent. The common stock advanced to 12½, but toward the end of the day the market reacted and the stock declined to 12¼, closing at a net gain of ¼ for the day. The preferred stock opened higher at 41 and closed at 41¼, a gain of ⅛. Pittsburgh Coal common sold unchanged at 31@31¼, while the preferred declined to 88¾, and closed offered at that price. There were no additional developments in relation to the deal for bringing about closer relations between the two companies. It is known, however, that leading members on the boards of both companies are favorable to a change, and the advantage of bringing the negotiations to a close before the time passes for making new contracts for 1903 is so apparent that it is thought no unnecessary time will be lost in reaching terms. The only change in the steel stocks was a slight decline in United States Steel preferred, which sold at 88¾, the loss being ascribed to sympathy with the movement in the eastern market. Brewing shares were dull and a shade lower, while Fire Proofing common advanced to 29½, a net gain of ½ for the day. Consolidated Ice sold down to 11½ and closed at 12, a loss of ¾. The Westinghouse stocks were unusually quiet. A small lot of Westinghouse Electric changed hands at 107¼, and the stock closed offered at 107, with 106½ bid. Airbrake was nominally quoted at 175¼@176¾. There were no transactions in Philadelphia Company, which was quoted at 47¾@48 for the common and at 49¼ bid for the preferred. Another day passed without a sale of Window Glass and the stock was nominally quoted at 56¼@56¾. The other glass stocks were also neglected. There was a revival of activity in the bank and trust company shares, and one new high record was established—North American Savings opening at 120, advancing to 123, and later rising to 130 bid, the latter representing an advance of $12 a share from the previous day. The company, in addition to declaring a cash dividend of 4½ per cent yesterday, also contemplates an increase in the capital stock. American Trust sold to the extent of 472 shares, at prices ranging from 127¾ to 130, closing at 130 bid. Commonwealth Trust declined 4 points to 142, but closed at 143 bid. M. & M. National Bank was 2 per cent higher at 135. Real Estate Trust was quoted at 306@307. An initial sale of a small lot of German-American Savings and Trust was made at 160, being an advance of 10 points on the subscription price. There were no transactions in bonds all day and prices were nominally unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The board of directors of the North American Savings Company has decided to recommend to the stockholders that the capital stock of the company be increased from $350,000 to $700,000; that one-half of the stock so increased be allotted to the present stockholders pro rata according to their holdings, at $100 a share; and the balance to subscribers who will assist in increasing the business of the company. Fifty dollars of the amount so paid on each share will be applied to surplus. The unusual growth of the company demands that resources be enlarged and the board of directors, in order to meet the needs of the patrons and keep pace with the growing interests of the community, deems an increase of the capital stock advisable. A meeting of the stockholders has been called by the directors for Monday, December 29, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the office of the company, to vote for or against such increase. The directors also declared a dividend yesterday of 4½ per cent out of the earnings of the past nine months, payable November 15 to stock of record October 31. The stock of the company was very strong, advancing to and closing at 130 bid, the highest price ever quoted.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday Morris & Brown bid $1.34 for 50,000 barrels Pennsylvania oil. The bid was in response to the action of the Standard in advancing the price of Pennsylvania oil from $1.30 to $1.33, a proposition which the Standard bid and this advance in price, said: "I doubt very much if there is any individual who owns 50 certificates representing 50,000 barrel of Pennsylvania oil. Owing to the fact that there is no longer a speculative market for pipe line certificates, producers are practically forced to carry their oil at credit balances and accept the daily price fixed by the pipe lines. Under the conditions, we publish that $2 oil would not be an unreasonable price if there was competitive buying of the commodity."

The buying of American Trust is said to be for account of new interests that are about to become connected with the company. The stock advanced to 130 bid yesterday, and closed at the top.

The Illinois Brick Company has declared a dividend of 8 per cent on the preferred stock, of which 3 per cent is payable November 15 and 5 per cent January 15.

At the opening Hill & Co. sold 100 shares American Trust at 128 to Ramsey, and later bought the same amount at the same price from E. C. Hall. At the close of the market the latter turned a buyer at the advance. Heag & Grier and Whitney & Stephenson each sold 50 shares.

Marlin, Long, Hill & Co., Walker & Wainwright and Wettengel were sellers of River Coal to Masten & Co. Preston, Watt & Schoyer, E. C. Hall, Montgomery and Crawford to Eberman. In the preferred stock Hill & Co., Carothers & Co. and Wettengel sold to Whitney & Stephenson and Masten & Co.

Mortgage Banking Company was quoted at 100 bid; Republic National Bank, 108 bid; Cosmopolitan National bank, 108 bid; Colonial Trust, 615 asked.

Nearly every opinion that came out of Wall street yesterday was to the effect that the decline in the market was due to Keene and Harris-Gates selling.

The Chesapake & Ohio railroad has declared a dividend of 1 per cent, payable November 26 to holders of record November 8.

A Wall street house that has been on the "bear" side for some time wired this to its Pittsburgh correspondent: "What is breaking this market? What we have been harping on for two weeks: Labor troubles, election, gold shipments and decrease in net earnings."

A director of Rock Island is quoted as saying: The next and only dividend on the old stock of the Chicago & Rock Island will be payable November 1. Thereafter dividends on the new preferred stock of the Rock Island will begin to accrue at the rate of 4 per cent for 1903. The first quarterly dividend will therefore become due and will be paid on February 1, 1903. The directors have not yet decided as to what they will do as regards the dividend on the new common stock. The fact remains that the company is earning at the rate of 7¼ per cent on the common stock now. The new Rock Island stock will be issued next Monday. Applications for listing the new stock will be made at the earliest possible date, and the listing will be made as soon as the formalities at the stock exchange can be complied with."

"The railroads of the country are likely to be confronted in the next few months with the question whether they will pay out more money in wages or will stand more money as the result of a strike. Some may decide one way and some the other, but in either case it means larger outlay and a reduction in the proportion of income belonging to stockholders, except so far as the loss can be made good by increased income."—Wall Street Journal.

The Hall Signal Company has just been awarded a contract for the complete equipment of the double track main line of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, between Buffalo and Dunkirk, a distance of over 40 miles.

GRAINS ARE LOWER IN CHICAGO MARKET

Wheat Opens Steady and Advances, but Closes at Considerable Loss.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Trading in wheat was active today, and after holding firm the greater part of the day there was a decline toward the close which was ⅝@⅞c lower on December corn. December corn closed ⅞c lower and oats ⅜c lower. January provisions closed unchanged to 7½c lower.

The general situation in wheat at the start was about the same as yesterday, with a strong cash demand and a continuation of bullish advances from the extreme west. Good buying by the northwest and southwest during the first part of the session caused an advance. Commission houses took advantage of the rise in price and sold freely, bringing about a reaction. The close was dull and steady. Primary receipts were 1,425,000 bushels, against 1,143,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 694 cars, which, with local receipts of 70 cars—eight of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 764 cars, against 739 last week and 765 a year ago.

Corn was heavy, and with the exception of a slight firmness near the opening on strength in wheat, the market was weak the greater part of the day. Local receipts were 133 cars, with 29 cars of contract grade.

More activity was manifested in oats, but with considerable pressure to sell the market was weak. Good weather and weakness in corn were depressing influences. Local receipts were 159 cars.

Provisions opened firmer on smaller receipts of hogs than had been estimated, together with higher prices at the yards. Commission houses and pit scalpers bought freely, advancing the price, but later the market became dull under general liquidation.

SUBSTITUTES FOR SAMPSON.

Question Again Comes Up In Supreme Court In Prize Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—The question of substituting some other name for that of Admiral Sampson in the case of the United States vs. W. T. Sampson, rear admiral, and others, which was suggested by Chief Justice Fuller in the United States supreme court last Monday, came up in the court again today.

James H. Hayden, counsel for the defendants, submitted a petition by Mrs. Sampson as administratrix, and also one by Rear Admirals Evans, Taylor and Cotton, Capts. Chadwick and Eaton, Commander Lucien Young and Lieut-Commander Alexander Sharp, Jr., that their names be substituted in place of Admiral Sampson's.

FIRM WHEAT MARKET SENDING UP FLOUR

Receipts of hay and grain were liberal yesterday, but prices were well maintained, no real declines occurring. In the hay market quotations are slightly changed to accord with a different grading, choice timothy being offered as strictly select stock, distinct from the No. 1 grade, which has been hitherto the top. Corn is very scarce, and but little being offered. Fair receipts of oats marked yesterday's business, but demand was good and prices are unchanged. Straw is in short supply still, and offerings are few and far between.

No more fancy spring patent flour at $4 10 for the present. Jobbers who were making a concession of 5 cents a barrel from the quoted price of $4 15 have withdrawn it, and are holding firm at the later quotation, or selling at $4 20. The reason for the strengthening is found in an advance of 10 cents a barrel, made by millers, which has only been followed in part by local wholesalers. Wheat is firm, with export demand very heavy. Flour is selling freely and is not high, the advance not being objected to by purchasers, who order as freely as before. Jobbers complain of the difficulty in obtaining proper transportation, one of them reporting a shipment of a car of flour from Minnesota, made October 13, not in sight yet, while a consignment made three days later has been in several days, and been reshipped to customers. Railroad companies are being roundly denounced for neglect in the matter, as business is being severely injured by the interference. The only other change in groceries is in raisins, new crop being now here, and offering at prices slightly lower than quotations at which old stock closed its season.

Salt Fish Demand Growing.

There is an excellent demand at the present time for salt fish, which has come more largely into use during the past few years. During the past summer while meat was so high, consumers turned their attention to fresh fish as a substitute, and are now transferring some of their allegiance to salt and smoked varieties. Mackerel is commanding high figures on account of a short supply, but sales are growing in volume. As long as meat and poultry remain high in price these positions they hold at present, there will be a ready market for fish.

There was not a change in produce prices yesterday. Trade was fairly active, but the cold weather kept some buyers at home, whose absence was noticeable. Potatoes are firmly held, selling from store being principally on the basis of 65 cents. Sweets are steady at recent advances, but no higher. Florida egg plant is coming in quite freely and is of good quality in excellent request. Lettuce and celery are unchanged, while all winter vegetables are maintaining a steady position, with no change to note.

Apples are selling freely at prices last quoted. Concord grapes are unchanged both as to price and condition. Pears are in good supply, with some inferior stock offering in baskets. Cranberries are firm at recent advance.

Chickens, both live and dressed, were easier yesterday, and dropped a trifle below figures of Tuesday, when a big influx was denied. There is a larger supply in the market this week than for some time, although there is yet no real abundance.

Game is in good variety, and sells freely. Both grouse and ducks are in demand, receives attention at the hands of consumers.

The market for butter, eggs and cheese remains as it has been since the opening of the week, without change of quotations in either line.

BOY'S STORY OF KIDNAPING COVERING THREE YEARS

James Hassenplugh Convicted of Keeping Edward Best from His Parents, Compelling Him to Beg.

Edward Best, the 15-year-old son of Emil Best, a steel worker of Homestead, told the story of his travels over the United States in charge of James Hassenplugh, who was being tried before Judge Collier yesterday, charged with keeping a child for begging purposes.

For almost three years the boy, according to his own story, traveled throughout the country against his will with Hassenplugh. On September 20, the couple were arrested in Tyrone and brought to Homestead. The boy disappeared with Hassenplugh on January 3, 1900.

Best said he had been induced to leave Homestead by Hassenplugh on glittering promises and by numerous articles given him by the old man. They traveled from the seaboard to Colorado and then south to the gulf, principally on freight trains. Some times they worked in a mill for a short period and then would move into the farming district and work on a farm. Often, the boy said, he was compelled to beg. The old man represented that the boy was his son and constantly threatened the youth with death if he revealed the truth.

Three times, the boy testified, he had run away, but each time Hassenplugh telegraphed ahead and he was arrested.

Hassenplugh, on the stand, said he was unable to keep the boy from going with him and that the boy had handed him a note, purporting to be the consent of his mother.

The jury convicted him as indicted. He was fined $100. Unless he pays it he goes to jail.

DENY INSOLVENCY.

S. K. Speer & Sons Allege Trouble Results from Malicious Litigation—Checks for Creditors.

In the United States district court S. K. Speer & Sons of DuBois filed an answer to the petition in bankruptcy against it. It is denied the firm is insolvent, or that it attempted to defraud its creditors. It is asserted by the firm also that the financial trouble it is now in is the result of malicious litigation instituted by W. C. Bond.

The account of the receiver of Eggers' apothecary hall shows a balance of $1,456. Checks were mailed to about 400 creditors of Jacob Shapira. They get about 20 per cent of their claims.

ASKS FOR MORE TIME.

Mercantile Trust Company Petitions Supreme Court to Delay Reservoir Mandamus Argument.

In supreme court yesterday a petition was presented by Attorneys Stone and Stone, asking that the mandamus proceedings of the Mercantile Trust Company to compel Controller Larkin to countersign a warrant for work on the Highland reservoir, be placed at the foot of the list of the present term. It was stated that there is about $300,000 involved in the proceeding. There is no opposition to the petition and the probabilities are that the prayer will be granted.

The appeal of Theodore Weiss in the matter of the mandamus proceeding brought against Thomas G. McClure, county treasurer, was argued. Weiss was the proprietor of a saloon in Franks-town avenue and was refused a license for the year 1902. He then made application to the county treasurer for permission to pay $300 into the treasury, alleging the Brooks law is unconstitutional, and claiming he was entitled to a license under an act approved April 3, 1872.

Other appeals heard yesterday were: Park Bros. & Co., appellant vs. Oil City boiler works, an action on a contract. W. D. Evans, trustee, against the Lincoln Company, appellant, to recover for goods purchased; John A. Smith, appellant, against M. H. Stevenson, an action over land; James H. Giles against Jones & Laughlins, appellant, to recover for personal injuries; United States of America for use of Nicola Bros., appellant, against W. W. Hegeman & Co., an action on a bond.

BUNCOED IN OIL.

Emmet Barr Convicted of False Pretense in Criminal Court—Wife Beater Gets the Limit.

Emmet Barr was yesterday convicted in criminal court on a charge of false pretense. He was charged by Miss E. L. Bell with having defrauded her in an oil well deal.

Miss Bell, who was from Greene county, entered the employ of Barr, who was an "alleged oil producer." She inherited some money from her father, and on the representations of Barr that he had just struck a "20-barrel well" in West Virginia, she gave him $500 in payment of stock.

The defense attempted to prove that a well was in existence and that Barr was interested in it.

After Michael Brogan had pleaded guilty to beating his wife Judge Stowe sentenced him to nine months, remarking that he regretted the law did not enable him to be more severe. The following pleaded guilty: Frank Martin, larceny, eight months to workhouse; James, alias William E., Taylor, bigamy, one year to workhouse; Nicola Cortazzi, felonious cutting, C. M. Ross, larceny, eight months to workhouse; James Johnston, carrying concealed weapons, 60 days to workhouse; John Carley, larceny, one year to workhouse.

Undertaker Denies Charges.

An answer was filed yesterday by Simon Bethune, an undertaker, to the damage suit of George W. Fussell. The latter alleged he employed the defendant to bury his child, and that when the undertaker discovered the coffin was too small he disjointed the child's body at the hips to make it fit. Bethune denies the charge.
